Injuries Fatal To Mill Worker

Martin Vandenbroek Is Crushed Beneath Load of Pulpwood at Kimberly Mill When Elevator Is Started by Mistake.

Struck by bolts of pulpwood when a milltruck capsized as it was being removed from the elevator on the main floor, Kimberly mill, of the Kimberly-Clark company Friday night, Martin Vandenbroek, 59, for seven years an employe of the mill, suffered a fractured skull and died at St. Elizabeth hospital a few hours later.

Mr. Vandenbroek was assisting another employe in pushing a truck, loaded with pulpwood, from an elevator after it had been raised from the basement to the main floor. Through a mistake, a signal was given and the elevator began to descend. The truck, halt onand half off the elevator, was tilted downward causing the pulpwood to slide down on Mr. Vandenbroek, who was in the elevator pushing at the rear of the truck.

When the wood was removed, Mr. Vandenbroek was found to be unconscious. He was rushed to St. Elizabeth hospital in an ambulance but died during the night without regaining consciousness.

The decedent had made his home with with his daughter in Kimberly for the last year.

SEEK RESORTS TO AWAIT NORMALCY

Businessmen Take Advantage of Lull to Enjoy Recreation in Woods.

By United Press Leased Wire

Chicago, Ill.—Business depression in other lines, has made the summer just passed, the greatest resort season in history.

Businessmen, with slack business, took in the ice card, gave the milkman notice, and went to the North woods to wear old clothes and wait for prosperity to return.

Railroads were forced to put on many additional special trains and extra sections to handle the rush to northern Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan.

Charles R. Custer of the Northwestern railroad, which reaches a large section of the northern lakes district, told the United Press that at least 300,000 persons spent some part of the hot summer at northern lakes.

"A larger number of business men than ever before, just dropped everything and made a summer of it," he stated. "Scores of new camps for boys and girls were crowded during the season."

The final big rush of the season for vacationists was on today, with thousands going to the northern lake country over the three day holiday.

While many fishermen will go north for the late autumn fishing, reputed to be the best of the year, the railroad's biggest job of handling the vacationists will be over when the crowd returns after Labor day.

ARREST PAIR FOR $12,000 SHORTAGE

By United Press Leased Wire

Aurora, Ill.—E. H. Johnson, bookkeeper for the Western Gas and Electric company here was under arrest Saturday and warrants were issued for Jessie Enck, cashier in connection with an alleged shortage of $12,000.

Miss Enck was operated on at a local hospital and officials said she would be arrested on her recovery.

The girl blamed Johnson, saying he gave her a check for $100 which she cashed from the company's money. The check came back, she said, marked "insufficient funds." She made up the amount by holding out on the day's receipts.

Miss Enck declared that Johnson then had her in his power and when he brought more checks, she was forced to cash them, or risk exposure.

Both Johnson and the girl are said to have confessed.

GRACE LUSK, IN ILL HEALTH, SEEKS PARDON

By United Press Leased Wire

Madison, Wis.—Grace M. Lusk, Waukesha school teacher, serving a 20 year sentence for the slaying of Mrs. David Roberts, as the culmination of a love triangle in which Dr. Roberts was a principal, will seek a pardon at the hands of Gov. John J. Blaine Wednesday, September 14.

Failing health is the basis upon which the pardon will be sought by Geo. J. Leight, Wausau attorney, who will appear for Miss Lusk before Governor Blaine.

Miss Lusk has been a model prisoner since she entered Waupun June 20, 1918, according to records. Her health has failed steadily and at present her conditions is described as not encouraging.

Last May she was released for a few days while she visited her dying father. She remained at his bedside for several days and following his death, returned to the prison.

MOVIE STAR PEEVED WHEN ASKED TO PAY FOR "LOVE NOTES"

Pauline Frederick Charges Married Man Sent Her Love Messages.

By United Press Leased Wire

Los Angeles, Calif.—Charges that Attorney George Edward Joseph of New York City sent her endearing notes and telegrams and followed up with an itemized bill for them, were made by Pauline Frederick, stage and motion picture star, here Saturday.

She made the charges in an answer to Joseph's suit against her for $36,000 for services rendered which she said she would file immediately.

The draft of the answer includes filing of a counter claim for $15,000 by Miss Frederick against Joseph.

Miss Frederick included in the draft of her answer, which was made public, telegrams and notes she alleged Joseph sent her from New York, Los Angeles and other cities.

One of them read:

"Pauline—Thou beloved and lovely queen of all that land that might have been, thy gracious, radiant smile illumines every weary mile."

Another said:

"Wretched because no wire this morning." A third said:

"Talked with Mack today. Will be ready to proceed when you arrive. Surprised he wired you and your response."

At the time that message was alleged to have been sent, Miss Frederick was divorcing Willard Mack, her actor-husband.

Still another said:

"Good morning, wonder girl. Am praying that quest of the new freedom begins tomorrow."

"Did you note the Athello touch creeping into legal verbiage in the last wire."

Another message queried:

"Forgive it. Am smiling now but sawred for a minute, won't you say something in your next wire? This gold fish privacy of communication is maddening. Always, George."

Joseph is said to be aged about 50 and married.

Miss Frederick declared she attached little significance to the messages at the time but professed astonishment when she received an alleged demand for payment for these "services."

None of the messages were answered by Miss Frederick, she said, "except when business made it necessary."

WANTS PROTECTION IN FOE COLONIES

Hughes Suggests Changes in Mandates Over Former German Possessions.

By United Press Leased Wire

Washington, D. C. — The United States has sent a note to the allied powers to protect American interests in mandates over former German territory, it was learned here Saturday.

The first step by Hughes to protect American interests in the mandate situation was the dispatch of his mandate note to the powers on April 2 in which the United States refused to recognize the allocation of Yap to Japan and insisted that this government must be consulted in the disposition of mandates.

The note just dispatched recently is the second one from Hughes on this question. It is understood to suggest changes in some form to the draft mandates for former German territory in order to protect American interests, probably asking that provisions for the "open door" and equality of commercial opportunity for the United States and all other nations, be inserted.

War Is Raging In Shadow Of Harding's Home

By United Press Leased Wire

Washington, D. C.—President Harding closes his first six months in office tonight with industrial warfare raging a night's ride away from the capitol.

While house officials realized the president had plunged into the most serious incident of his administration thus far and that opponents of the administration may seek to make capital out of the sending of troops into West Virginia despite the serious crisis in West Virginia, administration spokesmen were congratulating the president upon his accomplishments during his first six months in the White house.

These achievements include:

1—Signing peace treaties with Germany, Austria and Hungary.

2—Calling of a disarmament conference.

3—Summoning of a conference of unemployment.

4—Drafting of plans for reorganizing the federal government on a more efficient basis.

5—Enactment of important laws on the budget, emergency tariff, immigration, control of the meat packers, regulation of grain exchanges, extension of credits to farmers through the war finance corporation and the consolidation of the war risk bureau and other veteran relief organizations into the veterans' service bureau.

FIRES THREATEN TIMBER LANDS IN NORTH MINNESOTA

Marsh and Meadow Fires Get Beyond Control and Forests Begin Burning.

By United Press Leased Wire.

St. Paul, Minn.—Forest fires on and near the Iron range in Minnesota, Saturday threatened a number of towns.

Strong winds fanned flames into fury again Saturday, according to reports to the state forester's office.

Virginia, one of the largest towns on the Iron range, reported serious fires nearby. Fire lines had been laid out around the town to protect outlying homes in case the danger grew.

Other fires were reported serious near Hibbing, Moose Lake, Deer River and Buhl. A serious fire was reported near Cloquet, not far from Duluth.

Three years ago forest fires burned over millions of acres below the Iron range, and Moose Lake and Cloquet were centers of horror. More than 300 lives were reported lost during the fires of 1918.

Appeal for Help.

Randall, Minn.—Meadow and marsh fires that have been burning a half mile south of here for two days, got beyond control Saturday and timberland was threatened.

From 200 to 300 men have been fighting the flames but were unable to check them. An appeal for help was sent to the state forester's office today. It was feared the flames might get a big start in timber and destroy farm buildings.

There was little fear that the fire would invade the town, although it was close to the outskirts today.

NAMED TO PROBE BANDIT ESCAPE

By United Press Leased Wire

Madison, Wis.—Assemblyman John Dahl, Rice Lake, Wis., was Saturday appointed by Governor John J. Blaine special commissioner to take testimony in charges preferred against Sheriff George Garmen, Eau Claire county, relative to the escape of Gus Saunders and Stanley Russell, alleged bank bandits from the Eau Claire county jail last May. The men were held charged with robbing the State bank at Augusta.

Augusta citizens petitioned Governor Blaine to remove Sheriff Garmen for gross neglect of duty. The testimony will be taken by Dahl and submitted to Governor Blaine with recommendations.

Truant School Heads Held For Boy's Death

Chicago, Ill.—Investigation of conduct of parental school, an institution for truant children here was under way Saturday, following charges that one boy inmate was beaten to death by other boys at urgings from school officials.

Charles Deboer, instructor, was to be arrested on charges of being an accessory to manslaughter. Fred Smith, superintendent of the school, faces the same charge.

Witnesses told Municipal Judge Robert E. Gentzel, that when Orville Vardeman, 14, ran away from the school and hid in a tree, Deboer threw a brick at him and told him to come down. The boy dropped from the tree.

David Donahue, a truck driver who was nearby, told the judge of what was alleged to have followed.

"Orville went into the cottage," he said. "There were loud screams. One of the bigger boys who came out later told me that Deboer threw the body on the floor and then told the other boys 'here is the boy who wanted to run away, boys, go to him.'

"He told me the other boys, about 20, rushed at Orville and beat him."

Robert Gavin, the boy who talked to Donahue was questioned.

"Go to it boys. He tried to kill himself, so kill him!" Gavin quoted Deboer as saying in urging the other boys to beat the little fellow.

"Deboer told the boys they didn't know how to hit hard enough," Gavin said.

Orville died that night of a fractured skull. His jaw was broken and he had other bruises on his head and body.

MEXICAN OIL DECISION MAY SPEED TREATY

New and Independent Supreme Court Will Protect American Oil Lands.

NATIONS AT TURNING POINT

Compromise Rather Than Formality Expected to Bring Friendly Relations.

By David Lawrence

Copyright, 1921, by Post Pub. Co.

Washington, D. C.—Mexico's chances of recognition are better today as a result of her Supreme Court's decision on the famous article twenty-seven of the Mexican constitution.

The United States had proposed that a treaty be signed by Mexico absolutely safeguarding American oil rights. President Obregon felt that to concede America's request would give the impression that he was yielding to foreign influence. Nevertheless the American government insisted that either article twenty-seven was retroactive or it was not and that Mexico should say formally and irrevocably which was the case. America suggested a treaty because it would always be binding. Mexico, however, has found another way—namely, a Supreme Court decision.

Heretofore oil men have not had much faith in the decisions of Mexico's Supreme Court because of the frequent reversals of judgment. Now, however, the Mexicans claim their judiciary is independent. It no longer is appointed by the executive but all the judges are elected by Congress and only one-third is elected at one time so the court maintains a certain independence of political changes. This method of election was provided under the new constitution and the decision just handed down is really the first of its kind. It will have an important bearing on the future because if the Supreme Court does not reverse itself there will be much more faith in its integrity.

It is true that America asked that the oil question be adjusted in a treaty which had to be signed before recognition would be extended. The American government will not stand on technicalities. It is interested in the substance rather than the form. In effect the contention of the United States that Article twenty-seven ought not to be retroactive has been absolutely upheld. The Supreme Court of Mexico agrees entirely with the United States in pointing out that lands obtained prior to the making of the constitution are safe from confiscation.

Want Lives Protected

President Obregon's speech saying he would not sign a treaty is taken to mean that he refers to the points cleared up by the Supreme Court decision. The Mexican president, however, had previously indicated his willingness to adjust by treaty a number of pending questions such as claims growing out of the revolution in Mexico. An agreement on these points will not be difficult to accomplish and it may be that some broad reference to the protection of lives and property in the future may be urged as a means of satisfying public opinion on this side of the Rio Grande for while the United States government wants to be as considerate as possible in making it easy for President Obregon to handle his own political situation there is also a problem in Washington. For inside the republican administration are men like Secretary Fall, who reflects an extreme attitude toward Mexico, men like Secretary Hughes, who is interested in seeing legal questions adjusted on a sound basis and President Harding, who is eager that America's relation to Mexico shall be friendly so that complications with European countries may be avoided.

The situation is in such shape that a standing on forms and pride may drive the two nations apart whereas a spirit of reconciliation and compromise will bring them together. There is no evidence here of the rattling of sabres but a desire to get a definite agreement in black and white on a number of vexatious points so that the extension of recognition by the United States government, followed as it will be by similar action from the European powers, will not be the basis for political attack in the United States.

EX-CONVICT HELD FOR DEATH THREAT

Demanded $5,000 in Letter Addressed to Former State Prison Head.

By United Press Leased Wire

Waukesha—Paul Laschka, Milwaukee, is under arrest here Saturday charged with sending a threatening letter to Prof. A. J. Hutton, former superintendent of the state reformatory at Green Bay, unless he received $5,000 in cash by September fifth.

The letter said that failure to send the money would result in "your life not being worth a volley of buckshot to blow you to pieces with."

Laschka is believed to be insane. He was arrested as a vagrant and later confessed to sending the letter. He had served three terms at the reformatory and one at Waupun, according to the officials. While at Waupun he knew Prof. Hutton.

PACKERS PLAN TO CUT WAGES SEPTEMBER 15

Announcement Was Expected Today That Reductions Would Be Made.

UNIONS TO RAISE PROTEST

Adjustment Is to Follow Expiration of Alschuler Arbitration Pact.

By United Press Leased Wire

Chicago, Ill.—Cuts in wages of 200,000 packing house employes of the country were planned by the "big five" packers Saturday.

Announcement of the wage reductions will be made when the agreement under which Judge Samuel Alschuler acted as arbiter, expires on September 15.

Packer union representatives were in session here Saturday discussing means of meeting the proposed wage reductions They considered a proposition for presentation to the packers, proposed by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor.

Gompers was in conference with Denis Lane, secretary-treasurer of the union here early in the week and at that time suggested the proposed basis on which the workers representatives may go before the employers.

Attempt Settlement

The packers will attempt to settle the wage reductions through negotiations with their employes conference boards, set up about six months ago. This will be the first important question to come before the boards since their establishment to deal with questions of wages and working conditions.

Information Saturday was that the packers would refuse to deal with the union, represented by Lane.

In preparation for the wage cut, union chiefs claimed packers were laying off hundreds of men in their plants over the country in an effort to force them to accept the reduction.

Packers denied this, saying that their forces were kept up to the standard required by working conditions No official information regarding the proposed cut could be obtained from the packers, but it was expected it would amount to approximately 15 per cent.

Cut Was Postponed

A reduction of 12½ per cent was proposed by the packers six months ago, but an agreement was reached through negotiations in Washington with Secretary of Labor Davis to continue the Alschuler agreement until September 15.

It was understood at that time the packers agreed to continuance of the agreement merely as a matter of "public policy" and would not consent to further extension of it after September 15.

Lay Off Men

St. Paul, Minn. — Packing companies at South St. Paul are laying off employes, in spite of the fact that livestock receipts have not decreased materially.

George E. Carpenter, business agent of the Butchers' union said he could see no reason for the laying off of 150 men yesterday. It was reported 500 more would be laid off today.

A new agreement between packing employers and workmen is due to be made September 15, when the wage arbitration agreement effected by Judge Alschuler in Chicago expires Fears were expressed by union men that the companies would lay off large forces and attempt to hire them back after September 15 at reduced wages.

FIND RESCUE BOAT ADRIFT TWO WEEKS

Eleven Men Rowing 600 Miles for Aid, Say Importer and Crew Are Safe.

By United Press Leased Wire

San Francisco, Calif.—Two officers and nine men in a life boat from the steamer Canadian Importer were picked up at sea Saturday by the Tug Sea Lion, according to advices received by the marine department of the San Francisco chamber of commerce Saturday.

The men are those who put off from the Importer two weeks ago today and attempted to row 600 miles to the California coast in search of help for their steamer, which was disabled, waterlogged and helpless.

All of the men were reported by the Sea Lion as in good health and little worse off for their experience.

FILIPINOS PREPARING FOR INSURRECTION

By United Press Leased Wire

Manila—Letters reaching missionary headquarters here Saturday reported the natives in the province of Moro, Lanao, Cotabato and Jolo are arming and threatening an uprising.

The letters said the natives claimed they were unable to secure justice from the existing authorities and charged that constabulary officers acting as ex-officio justices were enforcing "bloodthirsty rule."

General Leonard S. Wood Saturday was preparing his preliminary report on the Philippine situation which will be sent to the secretary of war.

It was predicted that he will recommend important changes affecting affairs in the Moro district.

SECOND DEATH RESULTS FROM HOME ASSAULT

Plot to Wipe Out Hoyer Family Replaces Belief That Robbery Was Motive.

POLICE SEARCH MILWAUKEE

Statement by Dying Father Is Only Clew to Identity of Gunmen.

By United Press Leased Wire

Milwaukee, Wis.—While authorities were concentrating their efforts here to run down the murders of Mrs. Hoyer Saturday, Moritz Hoyer, the Ozaukee county farmer, shot and mortally wounded at the same time his wife was killed at their farm home Thursday night, died at a local hospital. Bullet wounds in the abdomen caused his death. With the disjointed anti-mortem statement of Hoyer to the doctors hovering over his death bed, authorities are making renewed efforts to run down the perpetrators of the double murder.

Confident that the murderers had no thought of robbery in their minds when they made the attack on the Hoyer home, officers working on the case cling to the theory that they intended wiping out the entire family. When the murder band saw the three Hoyers fall from bullet wounds, they believed they had accomplished their purpose, not knowing that Emily Hoyer's wounds were but relatively slight.

Why did any one wish to destroy the Hoyer family? is the question authorities are asking today. Hoyer, wealthy farmer, had no enemies so far as the officers have been able to learn.

Milwaukee — A brief statement made by Moritz Hoyer, Ozaukee county farmer, lying at the point of death here, has led authorities to concentrate their efforts in this city to round up the murderers of Mrs. Hoyer.

The four bandits who Thursday night entered the Hoyer farm home, shot and killed Mrs. Hoyer, mortally wounded her husband and seriously wounded Emily, the 19 year old daughter, are believed to be Milwaukeeans and that the purpose of their visit was to murder for revenge.

"No shooting took place until I entered the room," Hoyer told the doctors attending him. "Then one of the men said in German:

"We're here to get you and we will."

The firing became general and the three members of the Hoyer family fell under the hail of bullets from the two bandits that had entered the house under pretext of using the telephone.

Hoyer is so weak that a lengthy statement cannot be obtained and officers are uncertain as to why the murderers sought to wipe out the family.

Benjamin Koopman, farmhand, and the only member of the household to escape injury at the hands of the bandits, is to be released Saturday from the Port Washington jail. He

Crisis In Mine War Passes As Troopers Occupy Mine Towns

GOMPERS BLAMES OWNER OF MINES FOR "MINER WAR"

Labor Federation Wants President to Call Meeting to Discuss Trouble.

By United Press Leased Wire.

Washington, D. C.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, Saturday told President Harding that the coal operators of West Virginia are to blame for the fighting and bloodshed of the last few days. Gompers, accompanied by James Lord, president of the mining department of the American Federation of Labor, called at the White house and placed the case of the miners before Harding.

Shortly after they left Secretary of War Weeks called and told the president that the situation in West Virginia appeared unchanged.

Martial law will be proclaimed from Washington if necessary.

Gunmen and detective agencies hired by West Virginia mine operators are really responsible for the state of war prevailing, Gompers said following the conference.

Gompers asked the president to call a conference of operators and miners as suggested by President Lewis of the United Mine Workers. Harding replied, Gompers said, that his first duty is to establish the authority of the United States and to restore order.

Gompers told Harding that trouble originated in the refusal of mine operators to pay the workers on the tonnage basis which prevails elsewhere. The men were getting 55 to 60 per cent less pay under the system employed in West Virginia, Gompers said, and when the miners protested they were summarily dismissed and evicted from their homes.

"We said to the president that against the authority of the United States the people of West Virginia cannot and must not stand in hostile array," Gompers said in a statement. Tracing the origin of the trouble Gompers said that as a result of the 1919 coal strike, the United States coal commission awarded a wage increase of 24 cents a ton for all bituminous fields. This increase was granted everywhere except in West Virginia, Gompers asserted.

ILLNESS VICTIM TAKES LIFE BY HANGING SELF

By United Press Leased Wire

Fond du Lac.—Facing slow death from a disease he believed incurable, Wm. Freischmidt, aged 70, inmate of the county poor farm, ended his own life by hanging early Saturday.

The aged man used wire secured from telephone apparatus to accomplish his purpose, passing one end over a clothes hook above his bed and falling back on to the pillow in his death throes.

Federal Troopers Take Formal Command of Virginia Situation.

BATTLE DURING THE NIGHT

Sheriff Reports Indicate More Than 100 Miners Have Lost Lives.

By United Press Leased Wire

Madison, W. Va.—The crisis in the mine war has passed, military headquarters here announced Saturday.

Three hundred troops were on the Logan war boarder.

The military officers here said they believed the miners will quit without firing another shot when they get sight of the soldiers.

Charleston, W. Va.—The United States army Saturday formally took command in West Virginia.

Major General Bandholtz, following arrival of federal troops issued an order assuming command of the "provisional brigade United States. Charleston," announcing a staff and dividing Kanawha, Fayette, Boone, Logan and Mingo counties into three military districts. The order set forth that the counties have been assigned by the order of the president to the control of the provisional brigade."

Funerals of 42 victims of the mine war have been held near Blair. Sheriff Chafin announced Saturday after surveying reports of his scouts.

Ambulances arrived here shortly afterward with the bodies of two dead miners, recovered during the fighting which is in progress.

Sheriff Chafin announced his advices indicated that more than 100 miners had been killed to date.

Fifty-five prisoners were released from the Logan county jail late yesterday to make room for captive miners, Chafin said. He declined to announce the number of miners taken.

Two Fierce Battles

Logan, W. Va.—Two fierce battles Saturday were waged on the slopes of Blair mountain and the other along Beach Creek in the Crook Creek section.

The miners were reported attacking with a force estimated at 3,000 men.

Leaders of the Logan defense army believed it to be the final desperate attempt by the miners to take the county seat.

Definite information on the number of casualties could not be obtained but an air scout reported many miners killed by the enfilading rifle and machine gun fire laid down on them. Sheriff Chafin sent back a report there had been no casualties in his forces Saturday.

Federal troops had not yet arrived and officials expressed fear the defenders could not hold out against the miners' attack.

Fighting along a 25 mile front was announced at 11 a. m. in a communication received from Col. W. E. Eubanks, commander of the citizen defenders.

Much of the fighting was of the sniping variety, the communication stated.

"We have the situation well in hand" Eubanks said. Fresh troops and officers are on all fronts and the defense army is working perfectly."

It was not known here whether "fresh troops and officers" meant United States regulars or citizen reinforcements.

Colonel Eubanks said the bodies of two unidentified miners were picked up this morning.

Authorities Saturday denied that a number of bombs dropped from six government airplanes that arrived here from Langley Field yesterday, caused heavy fatalities among the miners, as was reported.

The bombs were said to have been made of iron pipe filled with high explosive. The airplanes were reported to have returned to their landing field near here after the air raid.

Minutes Precious In Russian Relief

Children in Famine Area Face Death if Relief Comes Too Late — Americans Arriving Give Famished Peasants New Hope.

By John Grauduez

By United Press Leased Wire

Moscow — "Twenty-five per cent of the children in the famine region will die. For them relief comes too late."

Anna Haines, a Quaker who has been in the Russian famine region for over a year, and who has seen the terrible death roll mounting inexorably, today assured me that her statement above was not exaggerated. "And what is more," she added, "if the food isn't here within two or three weeks, more than fifty per cent of the children will die."

Miss Haines has rushed a cable to Herbert Hoover.

"Speed up. Every minute is precious."

The Russians are maddeningly deliberate at times.

"Sichas," (in a moment)—they murmur constantly.

But the American relief workers are not wasting even that moment.

Americans on Way

Several of the Americans left Saturday for the heart of the famine country. They will go to the Samara country, passing through Kazan, and to Saratow and down the valley of the Volga to Novorossik.

The hustling Americans have astonished the Russians here, and they have made a "hit" as well. They moved right into a palace, the Spiridonowskaja Ulitza, which was used as the foreign office about 1918.

Here the gorgeous gilded rooms are like stage settings, with high canopied walls and frescoed ceilings. And—what is much more important to the Americans, steam heat.

Before their departure, American relief administration workers sent for me and asked about conditions in the famine regions. I told them fully what I had seen.

I told them of the thousands of fugitives I saw camping on the crest of a hill near the banks of the river Volga as our steamer slid up to the Stavropol landing and of how they were living beneath poorly constructed shelters of twigs and leaves and logs, the luckiest among them having tiny tents in which whole families huddled.

This miserable, half famished horde had come from the distant villages of Samara, where hunger competed with disease of the highest death roll. They were waiting for transportation to Siberia.

Starving and Hopeful

I was quickly surrounding by weeping women, babies in their arms which they could not suckle for want of nourishing food, groups of little children and old peasant men. They all had "bread" with them—Russians in the famine zone carry whatever food they have as a man carries a pocketbook in another country.

Hope that help would still come, somehow, from somewhere, held these people together and kept them alive.

Only once was there an outburst. A middle aged, strong peasant, more intelligent looking than his fellows, suddenly shouted:

"We are the people who produced what food there was. We will produce what will be. We are the supporters of the city. You must save us, or you yourselves will die."

When these famished peasants were told that we were pioneers from the United States, investigating conditions and that food was to follow, they all shouted together:

"Oh, thank the kind American peasants."

SIX CAR MAKERS REDUCE PRICES

By United Press Leased Wire

New York — The example of Henry Ford in slashing automobile prices has been followed by six other manufacturers.

Cuts ranging from $100 to $400 are announced Saturday by the Chevrolet, Overland, Oldsmobile, Franklin, Hudson and Essex Motor Car companies.

Factory prices on Oldsmobiles have been reduced as follows:

Touring car and roadster from $1,345 to $1,145; coupe from $1,895 to $1,645; sedan from $2,100 to $1,845; eight cylinder roadster from $1,725 to $1,625.

Franklin Motor Car company cut prices of all its types. The roadster at $2,550 was cut to $2,300 and the touring car and sedan were reduced by $300.

Chevrolet Motor company cuts were $100 all around. The new price lists announced by Chevrolet is 490 model fully equipped touring car $525; roadster $525; coupe $875; sedan $845.

RED CROSS WILL STAGE PAGEANT HERE IN OCTOBER

Civic Organizations Will Assist in Elaborate Production Oct. 7.

Another community dramatic project was launched Friday when the Outagamie county chapter of the Red Cross voted to produce the Red Cross pageant which is being offered to chapters in the Central division. Miss M. Alice Barrows of the Chicago Red Cross Office presented the subject matter to the executive committee of the Red Cross and an advisory committee made up of representatives from Appleton Womans club, the boy scouts, the American auxiliary and boy scouts, the American Legion auxiliary and other representative organizations. The committee voted for the production.

Mrs. E. E. Dunn was elected chairman of the cast committee. The date suggested for the production is Oct. 7. A few of the branches of the Red Cross in the county will be asked to participate. One of the features of the production is the very small expense with which it can be produced, since the costuming is largely overseas uniforms, home work costumes used during the war and draperies. All other materials can be had at a minimum expense.

The pageant deals with three historic periods of relief work, the first dealing with characters in 1860 who had to do with relief work and the ultimate organization of a national and international society for the care of the sick and afflicted, the second shows four episodes describing phases of Red Cross which are being conducted at the present time and the conclusion deals with the spirit of the community rallying around the Red Cross of Peace. The pageant was written by Mrs. Ruth Worrell, who was serving with the lake division of the Red Cross. It has been revised and published at Washington.

Appleton is the first Wisconsin city to produce the pageant, and the second in the central division to give it since its revision and under the direct auspices of the Chicago office. Miss Barrows, who presented the possibilities to the committee, will assist with the production although a local director will be appointed. Marshalls, who will take charge of groups, also will be appointed as soon as the executive committees are completed. Jacksonville, Ill., presented the same pageant in August before an audience of 4,000.

One of the parts of the production which may be stressed is the music. It is Miss Barrows' wish that the music could be made a large component part of the presentation here.

No Mail Delivery

Neither city nor rural carriers of the Appleton postoffice will make deliveries at the office or on their routes Monday, according to an announcement by Postmaster Gustave Keller. The stamp, general delivery, registry and money order windows will be open from 8 to 10 o'clock Monday morning. A collection of mail in the business district will be made at 7 o'clock in the evening.

TWO-PLATOON PLAN IS SUCCESSFUL IN WISCONSIN CITIES

Convention Delegates Hear Commendable Reports of New Fire Plan.

Firemen from the cities of La Crosse, Superior, Ashland and Milwaukee who attended the fourteenth annual convention of the Wisconsin Paid Firemens association this week in Milwaukee were unanimous in their praise of the two-platoon system such as will be adopted by the Appleton fire department, according to Louis P. McGillan, retiring state president, who in company with Joseph Drexler was present at the meeting.

The firemen declared that the two platoon system increases the efficiency and improves the morale of the men. They said that under the system, the firemen would willingly accept extra duty without demurral.

J. E. Florin, superintendent of fire prevention for the Industrial Commission, spoke on simple methods of fire prevention which would greatly reduce annual fire losses. He urged firemen to assist in educating the public to be more careful in regard to slight details, which if neglected often cause disastrous fires.

John McDonald, assistant chief of the Chicago fire department and head of the Chicago fire prevention bureau spoke along the same line and reviewed the work done by the Chicago bureau toward reducing fire dangers. The captain of the rescue squad of the Milwaukee fire department gave a talk on rescue work which was interesting and helpful.

At the business meeting, the following officers were elected for the coming year: Andrew O'Toole, Ashland, president; Chief A. Millspaugh, Merrill, vice-president; Chief Ole Norman, Superior, secretary; Chief John H. Kritz, treasurer; Arthur J. Rohn, Two Rivers, member of executive committee. United States Senator Irvine Lenroot also addressed the meeting.

It was voted to hold the next convention at Ashland in August, 1922. Delegates also were unanimous in favoring affiliation with the National Paid Firemens association. Plans to increase and extend the state membership also were discussed.

Change Rehearsal Place

The Rehearsal for "All Aboard," the American Legion comedy to be presented here soon, will be held in Elk hall Saturday evening only, in place of Odd Fellow hall.

Corn Yield Large

Golden glow corn, twice its usual size is displayed by Herman Schabo of the town of Center who has 12 acres of this variety which he expects will yield 160 bushels to the acre. The ears are unusually long and are well filled.

13% of all automobiles with the exception of one manufactured in the first 6 months of this year were Studebakers. Phone 241.

BIG RESERVOIRS ON WOLF RIVER TO RAISE WATER LEVEL

Senator Burke Urges Classon to Secure U. S. Aid for Project.

Establishment of immense reservoirs along the Wolf river in order to provide sufficient water at all times to prevent a condition similar to that existing here now is advocated by State Senator Timothy Burke, Green Bay, in a letter to David G. Classon, representative in congress from this district. Mr. Burke usggested that Rep. Classon introduce a bill in the next session of congress appropriating sufficient money to build the reservoirs.

He said he believed these reservoirs would store up enough water in the spring to maintain a sufficient level during the summer to enable the mills to run. The evaporation from these reservoirs would be great but the senator believes that a sufficient number can be built to provide enough water.

It is believed here that the proposition will meet with considerable opposition in congress because it is not the policy of the government to improve waterpowers when private interests are in control. It is argued, however, that the reservoirs would be material aid to navigation.

Huge reservoirs have been built along the headwaters of the Wisconsin river by a company of mill owners in the Wisconsin river valley. These big reservoirs supply sufficient water to operate the mills during the greater part of the season of low water. They are built and are maintained by private capital.

K. C.'S TO HOLD PICNIC MONDAY

Appleton Knights of Columbus will hold their annual picnic at Stroebe's Island on Labor Day. They will leave for the island from St. Joseph's hall at 10 o'clock Monday morning.

A program of games and other amusements has been arranged by Chris Mullen. A baseball game between married and single men will be one of the attractions of the afternoon.

DISTRICT W. R. C. TO CONVENE HERE

The annual district convention of the Women's Relief Corps will be held in Appleton Friday, Sept. 16. Mrs. Jane Beach will presid and 175 visitors are expected. The district includes Oshkosh, Fond du Lac, Neenah, Menasha, Berlin, Omro, Antigo, Waupaca and Stockbridge.

The morning session will open at 9 o'clock and will be featured by the annual inspection of the corps by Mrs. Dora Wilton of Oshkosh. District officers will be elected. Dinner will be served by the ladies of the Methodist church and refreshments will be served in the afternoon by members of the local corps.

4th Annual Paramount WEEK

NEXT WEEK is Paramount Week—the greatest days and nights of entertainment since the day when you saw your first circus.

It's the fourth annual Paramount Week at that: and when anything happens four annual times in the motion picture world you can wager there's value there, in thrills and laughs and all the marvelous sensations you get when you see a Paramount Picture.

Nothing less than a national screen carnival—that's what Paramount Week is!

The greatest talent of the entire world prepares it for you! Paramount writers, actors and directors in California, New York and London—the largest organization in filmdom, which works on a scale so huge and so successful as to supply more than 11,200 theatres in U. S. A. alone with their photoplays year in, year out.

In Paramount Week you see all the best Paramount achievements of the year, the greatest to date.

But—such is the swift progress of the young art of the screen, such are the striking improvements every year, that the season 1921-22 will bring you sensational improvements in Paramount Pictures, greatly outdistancing all past efforts, —improvements in all those vital details of a photoplay which make your breath come quicker, and your eyes shine brighter.

And you'll declare—

"That's the best show in town!"

That's what a Paramount Picture always is.

FAMOUS PLAYERS-LASKY CORPORATION

See the Poster in lobbies of theatres that show Paramount Pictures all the week of Sept. 4th to 10th. It's your guarantee that you'll see nothing but the best feature pictures—Paramount. When you see it go in.

See the Banner in front of theatres It means the theatre that displays it is joining in this great demonstration of better motion pictures. When you see this banner up—go in.

Look for this calendar cut in the newspaper advertisements and house programs of theatres.

CAN YOU IMAGINE?

Mrs. Grace Stoffel, the Wife, and Mrs Nellie Philips, the Mother, in the Denver Triangle, With Her Children.

Denver—Can you imagine—

A man having one wife—

And with her knowledge living part of the time with a second woman—

And becoming the father of two children borne by the second woman—

And borrowing the two children to take them home to his real wife—

And the real wife trying to adopt the two children—

And the real mother going to court to keep them?

You can't imagine any such thing?

Well, it actually happened in Denver The man was George W Stoffel garage owner The real wife was Mrs Grace Stoffel the mother of Stoffel's children Mrs Nellie Philips Stoffel regarded herself as Stoffel's common law wife

The women had homes only a few blocks apart

Officials investigated to find out how Stoffel had been able to support two homes they discovered he was bootlegging

Meanwhile the real wife has given the children back to their mother—and juvenile court officials are trying to work out a sensible solution of the various aspects of the case

INTERPRETING THE DEPRESSION FOR THE PUBLIC

The widespread prevalence of misunderstanding as to the cause of the commercial reaction suggests that Washington should endeavor by an educational campaign to clarify and rectify public opinion. If discontent, class hatred and the various other emotional outbursts are to be curbed or obviated, the people must be fully informed about economic movements. That the citizens should fail to realize the causes of the general depression is not a matter of surprise, when we perceive that at least one member of the cabinet, a few prominent business men and manufacturers, and several well known labor leaders hold different ideas on the subject.

A cabinet member has said that it is incomprehensible that there should be unemployment with great stores of money and industrial raw materials in the country. Leading business men have stated that the depression is a psychological state, and commerce will revive when manufacturers and merchants adopt optimism. Labor leaders have declared that they want the railroads nationalized, so that the government would end the unemployment, implying that the stagnation was anti-labor conspiracy. Manufacturers are contending that delay of tariff legislation is deferring the revival, and a conspicuous officer of organized labor now charges that the blame lies with congress.

In all probability, the government will be able to furnish the public full and weighty information after the unemployment conference in Washington, the participants in which will be twenty-five leading financiers and business men of all parts of the country. This conference will have to give consideration to causes in looking for relief remedies, and it should issue an educational statement, with the object of enlightening the public.

It is just as necessary that the people should understand aright the causes of the depression as that the unemployment should be reduced. Erroneous ideas lead to dangerous social conclusions, and dissatisfaction breeds class enmity and similar political and economic ills. Washington should not wait on the unemployment conference for elucidating information, but should immediately disseminate explanations which would clearly acquaint the people with causes and effects. Though there are a number of people who would not be convinced that this is a genuine reaction, because they would not allow themselves to be convinced, it is likely that the great majority would accept the explanations with understanding, and the educational campaign would be of benefit to business men, farmers, manufacturers and labor leaders by familiarizing them with economic laws in such a way as to aid them in their own affairs. The government should try to change the misunderstanding to understanding.

WAR-SACRIFICE MOTHERS AT PEACE MEETING

Victorious war, devastating war and costly war will be fought over again in cheers, and tears and diplomatic parleys at three conventions which will be held in the United States in the next three months. In Washington delegates of the nations will measure swords of thought to reach a practical and binding agreement on the limitation of armament, in the desire to preserve universal peace. In Kansas City the gallant destroyers of autocracy, members of the American Legion, will hold their annual convention, with the heroic intelligence of triumph, Marshal Foch, as their guest. But grander, simpler, more impressive and more significant than either of these will be the annual convention of the Service Star Legion of War Mothers in Cleveland.

How tawdry are the spoils and trophies of war, how boastful the yells of victory, how barren the soil of conquest, how vain the pomp and glory, compared with the five-pointed star of motherly sacrifice, and the silent grief and the sore and lonely hearts of the patriotic women who gave their brave sons as willing martyrs. The pale sad woman clad in the true emblem of war. Solemnly, lovingly, the people of the United States should show some particular manifestation of tender devotion and regard to the war mothers while they are assembled in Cleveland on September 13, 14, 15 and 16. Their noble sacrifice was humanly complete. They lost the treasures of their being, and their hope, joy and comfort, and the service stars which decorate their aching breasts are outward tokens of the profound sorrow which they poignantly feel, but are too loyal to disclose. None but war mothers could possibly realize the fulness of their sacrifice.

The war mothers will pray for their martyred sons. Arrangements should be made for the whole nation to stop all work for a minute, at a designated time during the convention, and join in their prayer. This would be a sublime tribute to those who sacrificed and suffered most from the war.

Woman is to be represented at the international disarmament conference. The Service Star Lgion of War Mothers deserves to have some voice in those momentous proceedings, and it should transmit a vigorous memorial against war to the conference. Diplomatists can talk of costs and rights, and soldiers can picture and romanticize war, but the mothers of martyred sons know what war really is, and while they might not be able to interpret war as the agony of the human heart, they do personify its tragedy. In constant view of the delegates at the conference there should be a pale, sad, lonely woman clad in black decorated with the lustrous gold star of sacrifices.

INDIA SWALLOWS SILVER LIKE A GORMAND

India is a voracious glutton for silver. It swallows all the white metal it can get, and then opens its maw for more. The hundreds of millions of dollars of silver bars and coin which are shipped into India disappear as completely as if the metal were re-buried in the earth; scarcely a trace of the metal is visible. India is a silver-money country. A great quantity of the imported money is absorbed in the fast and growing trade of India as a creek is lost in the current of a river and a great quantity is secreted in the hiding places of hoarders.

To appease the India gormand's craving for silver the United States melted about 270,000,000 of silver dollars into bars during the war, and shipped the metal to India and exported to that land new silver valued at nearly that much more. The Germans tried to alarm the people of India as to the value of paper money, and the United States flooded India with silver to cover or redeem the currency. The Far East has not needed any additional silver in the past two years on account of the business depression.

The United States is again replenishing its silver chest and is again minting silver dollars. New silver dollars are being coined to replace those which were melted into bars for India. As soon, however, as trade revives in the Far East, India will resume swallowing all the white metal it can get.

SECRETARY MELLON

It is not surprising that some of the standpat Republican politicians view Secretary Mellon with alarm. He is not a politician, and apparently makes no effort to play politics according to their rules. The standpatters have found him guilty of political heresy because he keeps some Democrats on the pay roll of the treasury department. Another sin is his failure to consult with their leaders before he suggests plans for raising taxes and reducing expenses.

Secretary Mellon has succeeded as a banker and in other activities. Such success did not come through a system of giving jobs to people because somebody recommended them. He can not look back on his business career and find that he climbed the ladder by distributing political patronage at each round. He succeeded because he applied business principles to his business and has been seeking to apply the same principles to the business of the government. He is so lacking in practical political wisdom that he thinks that expenditures should be less than income, and that debts should not be contracted unless the money is in sight to pay them.

One common criticism of Secretary Mellon is that his program sought to relieve the rich by shifting the taxation burden to people who were less able to bear it, because he looks at the situation with the view point of the rich man. What he has in mind is to help business, for unless business is helped there will be no prosperity. Idle factories make idle men, and hunger affecting the whole family results. There can be no complete revival of business in America until capital is put to work, and there is no chance for that time to come until its taxes are made less burdensome.

Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author.

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual case cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

THE ARTERIOSCLEROSIS CLUB.

Well, old boy, how's everything at the club?

We are all fairly well, doctor, though many of us feel slighted because your talks touch on almost everything under the sun save hardening of the arteries. We are not working harder than necessary to keep us out of mischief, not worrying any at all, to speak of, and if we could be separated from our knees and feet we would most of us feel in fine fettle. As it is, we can walk a few blocks on the level in comparative comfort, and then we must either use all our Sunday school and pagan philosophy to avoid cussing or else stop and admire nature—especially animate nature wearing flowers and smiles and seemingly proud to display that portion of her anatomy which troubles us old boys so much. After a brief rest we can navigate a few more blocks, there to pause again for a little anatomical research.

What hurts us is that the doctor takes so little notice of us. There are whole lot of us in the club, yet nobody points any of us out as the "fellow with the hardened arteries," whereas a person with fallen arches or a touch of neuritis is elevated to the rank of noble. No book we can get hold of tells us what is really the matter. Even Dr. Brady administers to us a kind of scientific neglect. Dr. Brady exploded so many popular health or medical fads and fancies, perhaps he will tell us that wearing elastic bandages from the toes to the knees would be useless; or that the morning rubbing from the feet upward is of no value; or that the morning workout to soften the arteries a bit is no good. We have adopted all these, one after another, when some physician more or less eminent suggested them for a member. We don't bother our own physicians much any more, for they generally sit down and tell us, in effect, that there's nothing to be done but await the clot in the brain or the gradual giving out of the heart or something equally cheerless. If we can find one good doctor to treat us like human beings we'll elect him an honorary member of our club when the time comes that he can qualify. (T. W. H.)

Sorry, brother, but I can't be friendly with you now. I'm not to become a member of your club. Look around and find some old doctor.

Wearing elastic bandages or stockings may be of some value. Rubbing the legs upward is of value. Lying with the legs on an inclined plane above the level of the hips is also helpful.

Though I decline your friendly approach, fearing election, I am human enough to say that members of the Arteriosclerosis club needn't worry more than nonmembers about clot in the brain or heart failure. I suppose the club library contains Horace Fletcher's ABZ of Human Nutrition and Luigi Cornaro's Essay on Long Life—which books I heartily commend to members and prospective members.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Water in the Ears.

Although I wear a rubber helmet covering my hair and ears while swimming whenever I dive I suffer great annoyance from water getting in my ears. Can you suggest anything to prevent this? (Miss M. F.)

Answer—Before entering the water insert some lamb's wool, not cotton, in each ear.

Foreign Body in Nose.

My daughter aged 2 years, put a kernel of puffed rice in her nose and I cannot take it out. What should I do about it? (A. M.)

Answer—Take her to your physician. Children often insert things in the nose, and if the foreign body is not removed it may set up prolonged suppuration. One sided purulent discharge from the nose in a young child should suggest such a cause, and lead to examination by a physician who does nose and throat work.

Cats as Carriers.

If uprevention is better than cure, how about cats as carriers of tuberculosis? What per cent of cats have that disease? (A. M. L.)

Answer—I know of no evidence that cats might carry the bacilli of human tuberculosis, and I am unable to inform you whether cats are subject to any form of tuberculosis.

Goitre Preventive.

What is a good preventive against goitre in young girls? (W. A. B.)

Answer—Very small amounts of iodine internally. A drop of tincture of iodine in a pint of drinking water every day for a month, twice a year. Or two or three grains of sodium iodine, in a quart of drinking water, daily for a month, twice a year.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

Saturday, Sept. 5, 1896.

Charles H. Coates returned from a visit at St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Miss Ada Kelnroe of Hortonville, was visiting Appleton friends.

Mrs. W. H. Kullen entertained the Wednesday club at her cottage at Aloha beach.

Cards were out announcing that the marriage of Henry Hilfert of Kaukauna, formerly of Appleton, and Miss Abbie Scofield of Neenah, was to occur on Sept. 23.

Attorney General W. H. Mylrea of Wausau was in Appleton on business.

Gus Gerry of Denver, brother of Hadley Gerry, was visiting Appleton relatives.

Judson Raggles of Oshkosh, a former Appleton printer, lost his household furniture by the burning of the house he occupied.

A straw vote at the Thilmany mill at Kaukauna gave McKinley 16 votes and Bryan 2.

The public and majority of parochial schools were to open the Monday following.

The Menasha Water Power Co. filed articles of incorporation with the register of deeds of Winnebago Co. The company was capitalized at $500,000 and J. A. Kimberly was president and J. C. Shattuck secretary.

At a meeting of the board of education it was decided to establish a school for deaf mutes in connection with the public school system of the city. Miss Hannah Gardner was engaged as instructor.

NEW AFRICAN CATHEDRAL.

Twenty years ago the London Missionary society entered the Lunapula valley and occupied the area around Kazembe's—a country where Livingstone began his pathfinding. There the L. M. S. has labored effectively until they have about forty out-schools and 5,000 adherents. Recently a new brick church has been erected at Mbereshi and Dan Crawford, who is known among the natives as Bwana Nkonga—"the Gatherer of the Peoples"—was invited to consecrate the building.

The Agitated Grape Grower

By Frederic J. Haskin

Washington, D. C.—What will grapes sell for this fall?

That is a question which is painfully agitating thousands of men who own vineyards, some of whom have staked their whole fortune on the grapevine. To a less extent it is troubling all of the dealers and middlemen who have to do with the distribution of the grape crop.

Haskin

Prohibition has converted the growing and selling of grapes from a quiet stable industry into wild and speculative one. The vineyardist, once a peaceful and contented fellow, has become an excited and distraught one, who alternately dreams of fabulous wealth and quakes at the threat of bankruptcy.

The answer to the all-important question, as to what price he should get for his grapes, formerly came from a few large dealers. Ninety-two per cent of the grapes grown in America are grown in California, and most of these are wine grapes. The rest are raisin grapes, also grown in California, and the Concord grapes grown in a few eastern states and sold for table consumption and for the making of grape juice. Hence the wine makers and the grape juice makers took the great bulk of the grape crop every year at a fixed figure. The market was sure and the price did not vary greatly.

When the threat of prohibition loomed large, the grape growers saw in it nothing but prospective ruin. They fought it with all their might, and went down to a bitter, howling defeat. A year ago last spring, vineyards could be bought for a song. Some far-sighted men who had the song bought a lot of them.

Fall came with a large crop of grapes. It brought also an army of buyers. Before prohibition the price of wine grapes had varied from $10 to $20 a ton, and the price of Concord grapes from $30 to $40 a ton. With the manufacture of wine prohibited by an amendment to the Federal Constitution, and with the manufacture of grape juice greatly reduced by a high tax, grapes began to sell at from $65 a ton up. Especially up. Last fall wine grapes were actually sold as high as $225 a ton.

A Prohibition Miracle

The grape grower who had sold his vineyard tore his hair. The man who had bought it made the purchase price on a single crop. All concerned were reminded that they lived in a world where the incredible happens. Prohibition, which was expected to render the grape vine no more valuable than a gourd, had actually made grapes dearer perhaps than they had ever been before in human history.

There was never any doubt who bought those grapes. They were bought by hundreds of thousands of persons who made wine in their homes. It was estimated on pretty reliable information that 65 per cent of the raisin crop also went into the making of hooch.

It dawned upon the grape owner that if he had lost one market, he had most certainly gained another, apparently much larger both as to capacity and price. Forthwith there was a boom in vineyards. Those that had sold for a song a year before were not moved by anything less than a symphony orchestra this spring. Thousands of acres were planted in grapes. One man worth several millions has risked his whole fortune by planting about 15,000 acres.

Of course, none of these vineyards which have just been planted will bear for three or four years, but the crop this year has been boosted in another way. Every year the vines are pruned, and the amount of grapes which a vineyard will bear depends upon how much "wood", as the grape men say, is left on the vine. If too much wood is left a large crop of grapes is produced, but the vitality of the plant is injured. This is called over-cropping. Nearly all of the grape-growers in the country have over-cropped their vines this year in expectation of tremendous prices again. Even so, late spring frosts have cut their crops from 35 to 50 per cent.

Early grapes are just now beginning to move. The bulk of the crop will not begin to hit the market until the middle of the month.

An Uncertain Market

Meanwhile, throughout the business, there is a terrible suspense. So far there have been scarcely any sales. There is no rush of buyers into the market such as there was last year. What is the reason? Presumably there are just as many home wine makers in the country this year as last. The crop is short, and that should make for high prices. Of course, times are a bit hard. People have not as much money to spend on luxuries as they had last year. And yet it seems probable that the man who made wine last year will make it again this year. The evident fact that Congress is afraid to pass a law which would legalize raids on home brewers has presumably encouraged him.

So the question can be argued pro and con. The fact remains that so far there is little activity in the grape market. The probable reason is that the market is a vast and unknown one which it is impossible to study.

Formerly it consisted of a few large concerns, which were sure to make wine and grape juice and therefore sure to buy the grapes. Now it consists of millions of individuals, who made wine last year and may make it again this year. Then again, many of them may be too poor, and others may have found some other way of obtaining the beverages they want. Nobody knows what those millions of amateur wine makers are going to do, and it is impossible to take a census and find out. Therefore grapes will probably came into the market slowly and timidly, and the prices they fetch will be determined, as the season advances, by the demand for them.

A Government expert, who has watched this whole drama of the grape and prohibition, predicts that the grape industry will be ruined, simply by the demoralization which has overtaken it. Men are overcropping their vineyards and ruining them. Men are planting and buying vineyards as a speculation, and in bad years many o fthem will fail. All stability and certainty have been taken out of the business, he argues.

On the other hand, it seems probable to some that the business will tend to stabilize. The status of the home vintner will be definitely settled. The experience of a number of years will show just about how many tons of grapes he uses per annum. The supply will adjust itself to the demand. New channels of trade will be developed. The vineyardist may yet return to the peaceful security of an assured market.

Q. At what distance are storm clouds visible to the naked eye? K. D. K.

A. The Weather Bureau says that the distance at which storm clouds are visible to the naked eye varies greatly with one's position and the kind of clouds. If a person is in an open flat country and the clouds are of the broad stratus or layer type, he may not see them more than 30 or 40 miles away, and even not half so far if the air tends to be misty or hazy. On the other hand, when the air is quite clear a well developed cumulo-nimbus, or thunderstorm, cloud may, in favorable circumstances, be seen when more than 100 miles away.

Q. Is American coal selling readily in the foreign market at this time? A. H. D.

A. The National Coal Association says that the only American coal operators who are doing any off-shore business at present are those who hold contracts. While Great Britain's mining costs are higher than those in the United States, because of out-of-date mining methods, lower transportation rates give the English operators an unsurmountable advantage over the American dealers.

Q. Does the Red Cross employ male nurses? F. O.

A. The Headquarters of the Red Cross states that male nurses are not employed by this organization.

Q. Are prairie dogs found in much of the farming land in this country. O. M. C.

A. The Department of Agriculture says that not less than 100,000,000 acres of range and agricultural lands are infested by prairie dogs. These animals sometimes change the most productive valleys into devastated barrens.

Q. When is Expectation Week? G. L. L.

A. This is a name sometimes applied to the period between Ascension Day and White Sunday, since during this time the Apostles continued praying in earnest expectation of the Comforter.

Q. What was the date of the Galveston flood? D. W. S.

A. On September 8, 1900, a flood inundated Galveston, Texas, in which about 8,000 persons lost their lives and property worth $20,000,000 was destroyed.

Q. How high is the highest lookout on any ship in the United States Navy? A. S.

A. The Navy Department says that the highest lookout on any ship in the Navy is 110 feet, measuring from the water.

Q. What makes a thermos bottle heat and cold proof? J. T.

A. A thermos bottle is a double-walled receptacle. The air in the space between the walls is completely exhausted and the walls are silvered like a mirror so as to reflect radiation. This guards against the access of heat or cold from without.

Q. How did Esperanto get its name? C. C. H.

A. Asperanto received its name from the Russian physician Dr. Zamenhof. He first published a treatise on the subject in 1887, signing it Dr. Esperanto, meaning "Hopeful."

Q. What system is used by the Japanese to dwarf pines? A. E. A.

A. The Forestry Service says that the system used by the Japanese to dwarf pine trees is kept secret by them.

Q. What does the expression "Turn again, Whittington" refer to? E. J. S.

A. The reference to Whittington is to Richard better known as Dick Whittington, an English merchant and Lord Mayor of London. According to popular romance, Whittington as a lad went to London and obtained work as a scullion. Growing tired of ill usage, he started to leave the city when the Bow Bells seemed to say to him "Turn Again, Whittington, Lord Mayor of London." He, therefore, went back and eventually rose to the prophesied position.

ASK DR. WILLIAMS TO REMAIN AS HEAD OF M. E. DISTRICT

Gains in Membership, Finance and Activity Shown at Annual Meeting.

Dr. T. D. Williams, superintendent of the Appleton district of the Wisconsin conference of the Methodist church, was unanimously invited to return to this district at the fourth quarterly conference held Friday evening following a supper at the First Methodist church. Dr. Samuel Plantz was instructed to intercede with the bishop to have Dr. Williams returned.

It was voted to have Dr. Plantz and Dr. William invite the annual conference to meet here in 1922.

J. G. Rosebush was elected delegate to the lay-electoral conference to be held Sept. 9 at Sheboygan. Charles D. Thompson was elected reserve delegate. The following were elected delegates to the laymen's association meeting to be held Sept. 10 in the same city: J. G. Rosebush, C. D. Thompson, W. F. McGowan, G. W. Jones, Fred Edmonds, Mrs. Fred Edmonds, Mrs. H. E. Nicholson and Mrs. T. D. Williams.

Elect Trustees

W. F. Saecker, Frank Wright and L. A. Youtz were reelected trustees for three years. The trustees who remain over are G. W. Jones, O. P. Schlafer, M. J. Sandborn, J. G. Rosebush, F. E. Saecker and Samuel Plantz.

The following were elected stewards: R. M. Bagg, W. H. Burns, W. Clifford, J. L. Forbes, John Goodrick, D. O. Kinsman, J. C. Lymer, W. F. McGowan, Mrs. Harriet Nicholson, Grant Powell, H. J. Searles, C. D. Thompson, C. W. Treat, J. D. Wilson, Joseph Kox, Herman Heckert, George Sutherland, Mrs. N. H. Brokaw, R. A. Buxton, O. P. Fairfield, W. S. Ford, W. H. Hart, Peter Larson, R. J. Manser, E. L. McGregor, H. B. Peterson, H. G. Saecker, E. S. Torrey, W. S. Van Stratum, O. A. Meads, J. W. Zahrt and W. E. Smith.

W. H. Zahrt was made recording steward and Miss Lizzie McNaughton communion steward.

The committees elected are as follows

O. A. Meade, John Goodrick, C. D. Thompson, auditing committee. Mrs N. H. Brokaw, Mrs. L. A. Brigham, Mrs. Frank Wright, charity; G. W. Jones, church records; J. G. Rosebush, R. A. Buxton, church seating committee; J. C. Lymer, E. S. Torrey, Mrs. Harriet Nicholson, Mrs. Fred Edmonds, Miss Ada Myers, Walter Clifford, centenary; R. M. Bagg, O. A. Meade, Mrs. T. D Williams, Mrs. A. C. Remley, Mrs. D. O. Kinsman, education; W. F. McGowan, Peter Larson, tellers; L. A. Youtz, O. P. Schlafer, R. A. Buxton, F. E. Saecker, W. Clifford, G. W. Jones, H. Heckert, finance, H. G. Saecker, J. G Rosebush, Mrs. N. H. Brokaw, Fred Tresize, music; Dr. Samuel Plantz, W. S. Ford, Dr. M. J. Sandborn, pulpit supply committee; W. H. Burns, Grant Powell, W. S. VanStratum, J. D. Wilson, repairs; F. C. Brayton, Mrs. Olin, George Sutherland, Mrs Edith Wright, temperance; J. L. Forbes, judge of elections; Mrs. J. G. Rosebush, Mrs. A. E. Rector, Mrs F. C. Brayton, hospital committee, Dr. M. J. Sandborn, G. W. Jones, J. G Rosebush, W. F. Saecker, E. L. McGregor, A. C. Remley, F. Wright, estimating; Mrs. N. H. Brokaw, Mrs. J. G. Rosebush, Mrs. O. P. Schlafer, Mrs Harriet Nicholson, Miss Lizzie McNaughton, parsonage furniture; O. P. Schlafer, J. L. Forbes, H E. Peterson, janitor. W. E. Smith, Mrs. L. A. Brigham, W. S. Ford, Sunday school; R. A. Buxton, W. F. McGowan, R. J. Manser, ushers; L. A. Youtz, trier of appeals; O. P. Schlafer and W. H. Hart, conference claimants committee.

Reports Show Gains

Reports of the superintendents, presidents of various church organizations and chairmen of committees were received and approved.

The license of Alfred Root as local preacher was renewed.

This quarterly conference was the last held in the district in preparation for the annual conference to be held next Wednesday in Sheboygan. The district enjoyed a year of remarkable prosperity considering the business depression.

The report of the district superintendent included the following: A memorial church organized at Carter, the building a gift of Milwaukee friends; a $24,000 church completed at Mosinee; new pipe organs to be installed at Marinette and Manitowoc; the last instalment paid on the church property at Cedarville; the church moved and remodeled at Niagara at a cost of $5,500.

The church at Port Edwards has been repaired after the Christmas eve fire. A new parsonage was built at Buena Vista. The church at Stevens Point received a gift of a 120-acre farm on the outskirts of the city. Manitowoc has expended $2,500 on church repairs.

The district has paid $6,890 on church debts this year.

Thirty-one of the fifty churches reported a net gain over all losses of 532 members.

The ladies aid societies have reported $25,679 put into church treasuries this year; $12,000 has been added to the pastors salaries again this year.

Salaries Increased

Dr. Williams reported that many of the churches have doubled their salaries since the district superintendent came to work six years ago. Benevolences have made phenomenal advances. The last two years the district has paid $83,795 for missions or about $42,000 a year. Appleton church pays about $9,000 for missions and much more for hospitals and other charities. In spite of the industrial depression, the district has paid off 78 per cent of all pledges to the centenary.

The new pastor for the First Methodist church of this city will doubtless be appointed at the Sheboyban conference.

Society

Weds Waupaca Man

A pretty church wedding took place at 8 o'clock Saturday morning at St. Mary church when Miss Virginia Carley, daughter of Mrs. Ellen Carley, 970 Appleton-st., became the bride of Archibald Gmeiner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Con Gmeiner of Waupaca. Miss Carley wore a traveling suit of beaver duvetyn with a hat to match and a corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses.

She was attended by her sister, Miss Verna Carley who wore a navy blue tailored poiret twill gown yith a black panne velvet hat and a corage bouquet of primula roses. Arthur Lunde of Chippewa Falls attended the bridegroom.

A wedding breakfast was served to 30 guests at the home of the bride's mother, which was decorated with pink and white flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Gmeiner left on a trip to Chicago and Eagle river to be gone about two weeks. Upon their return they will live at Waupaca.

Among the out of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Con Gmeiner, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Gmeiner, Waupaca, Miss Alice Timlin, Kewaunee; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vogl, Aniwa; F. A. Carley, Berlin; Deimar DeLong, Mr. and Mrs. Henry DeLong, Waupaca; Arthur Lunde, Chippewa Falls; Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Bach, Algoma; Arthur Beilke, Wausau and Leland Dabreiner, Hortonville.

Farewell Party

Miss Genevieve Vanderlinden, 728 Fremont-st., entertained Friday evening in honor of Miss Mae Bestler who will leave soon for Chicago. Games were played, honors going to Miss Irene Sprister and Miss Irene Wettengel. A wiener roast was a feature of the refreshments. Miss Bestler was presentd with a purse.

Missionary to Speak

The Rev J. R. Boyles, missionary at Burma, India, on furlough in this country, will address the Young People's Alliance of the Emanuel Evangelical church at 6:45 Sunday evening. A song service will open the meeting and there will be singing by the men's quartet.

Meet Wednesday

Moose Ladies and members of the Women of the Mooseheart Legion will meet Wednesday evening in Pythian-Moose hall. The regular business session will be followed by cards.

Child Entertains

Little Miss Emelda Lemke, Commercial-st., entertained eight little friends Friday afternoon in honor of her birthday anniversary. Games furnished entertainment for the guests. A dainty lunch was served.

Women's Council To Meet

An important meeting of the Appleton Business Women's council is to be held Sept. 12 in the womens club. Plans for the meetings of the Appleton Business Womans Association will be completed.

Dress The Cabbage Up

Cabbage is a plebian vegetable that can be made to rival the aristocratic cauliflower or brussels sprouts if it is carefully cooked and served. If cooked in an uncovered kettle the unpleasant pungency will not be noticed.

Creamed cabbage is as delicate a dish as creamed cauliflower and much less expensive. And cabbage is richer in minerals than either sprouts or cauliflower.

Creamed Cabbage

One medium-sized head cabbage, 3 green peppers, 1½ cups white sauce, 2 tablespoons grated cheese, 3 teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon soda, coarse bread crumbs, butter

Remove wilted outside leaves of cabbage and put in rapidly boiling water to which salt and soda have been added. Boil eight minutes. Drain and put in freshly boiling water and boil rapidly for twenty-five minutes. Drain, remove core and chop. Put a layer of cabbage in a well-buttered baking dish. Add a few shreds of peppers which have been parboiled for five minutes, sprinkle with cheese, salt and pepper and pour over white sauce to moisten. Continue alternating layers of cabbage and white sauce until all is used. Cover the top with coarse bread crumbs, dot with bits of butter and bake in a hot oven for twenty-five minutes.

Stuffed Cabbage

One large new cabbage, 1 cup cooked rice, 1 cup cooked left-over meat, 2 teaspoons minced parsley, salt and pepper, 1 cup brown sauce.

Remove any wilted leaves and thoroughly wash the cabbage. Put into a kettle of rapidly boiling water to which two teaspoons of salt have been added and cook for fifteen minutes. Drain and put in freshly boiling water for twenty-five minutes. Mix rice, meat and parsley, season with salt and pepper and enough milk to moisten. Drain cabbage and pull open the leaves. Put meat mixture in each space. Put in a well buttered baking dish, cover with buttered paper and bake in a moderate oven for half an hour, basting frequently with hot water and bacon fat. Serve with brown sauce.

Brown Sauce

One tablespoon butter, ½ tablespoon bacon fat, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 small carrot, 1 small onion, 1 tomato, salt and pepper, 1 cup water.

Melt butter and bacon fat. Add sliced carrot, onion. Stir in the flour and cook until brown. Add tomato. Add water gradually, stirring constantly. Let cook eight minutes and rub through a sieve.

What Mr. Moon Saw

Here's what Fleet was thinking. "It's such fine weather that Biddy Bantam wil probably start to roost in the plum tree. She does it every year, and every year I plan to have her for my midnight lunch, but something always hapens. She's hidden her nest somewhere, too, I'm sure but I can't find it, smart as I am. I'll take a walk down to the plum tree tonight and and have a look around. In the meantime I'll stay near Mike Mole's house and see what I can see."

Fleet didn't know it, but he was talking out loud, and Sprinkle-Blow heard him and so did Nancy and Nick, for the thre of them were also looking around to "see what they could see" as well as to "hear what they could hear."

The fairyman nodded wisely to the children and being rather wise themselves, they nodded back understandingly. But nobody said a word and Fleet never knew they were there. By and by he wandered away.

That night the moon came up, peering curiously over the hilltop. He wanter to see what was going on in the world, and he always sees plenty of things to satisfy him. He stares and stares and stares perfectly unashamed. Mr. Moon is the one person without manners whom we all love.

One thing Mr. Moon saw was Biddy Bantam perched on the lower limb of the plumb tree, another thing he saw was Fleet Fox slipping out of his hole, still another thing he saw was little weenty Cutie Cottontail saying goodby to his Mama and skidaddling for the sass-patch garden beside the orchard where the plum tree was, and still another thing he saw was Chris Crow following Cutie like a shadow.

There was going to be a mixup.

Jane—A Widow?

"Mrs. Bob, let me take you home," Morrison continued. 'Give Bob a chance to explain!"

"He had it! He didn't because he couldn't!" I sobbed.

"Mrs. Bob, your husband can. I know what he's been up to. Believe him. Now I'm going to call a taxi and take you straight home!"

"I have no home!" I protested. We had risen, Morrison put a palm under my elbow and I moved as he directed.

"I've got the real dope, Mrs. Bob! Your man is all right. But it's for him, to tell you his story. Gosh, I guess this is the best day's work of my life! Makes an old guy like me feel as if I hadn't lived in vain!"

We awaited a taxi at the curb. A newsboy, crying an extra edition, thrust a paper before the detective. I caught a single word of the black head-line!

"Explosion!"

That word was so dreaded in the Lorimer family that it was taboo. "Explosion" might mean loss of life among the employes of the Lorimer Chemical Company. Involuntary, I clutched at the paper, but by a clever movement, Morrison helped me into the taxi and thrust the paper into his coat pocket.

We sat side by side, silent and white, we dared not look at one another. When we finally drew away from the crowed traffic, I ventured:

"I saw! It's our plant, this time!"

"Maybe it doesn't amount to much, Mrs. Bob!"

"Let's find out! Read it!"

I snatched the meaning of the article from the short words of the head and sub-heads:

The local plant of the Lorimer Chemical Company had been wrecked. Cause not known. List of injured incomplete. R. A. Lorimer supposed to have been in the plant at hour of explosion. Was not to be found—

The remainder of the account was as unimportant to Morrison as to me. The paper dropped to the floor of the cab.

"Steady, now, Mrs. Lorimer! Steady, now! That's right! Drink this!"

I drank —strangled —coughed —and saw horrid words shapping themselves against the back of the chauffeur.

Bob—dead? My husband—dead? Myself—a widow?

"Can't we ever make up—now?" I found myself putting this question to the detective.

I, who had so lately planned to run away from Bob—who desired never to see him again—was set suddenly face to face with the possibility, the probability that we could not "make up" ever again found it beyond my comprehension.

"I can't live without him!" I confided this to the detective in a voice I did not recognize as my own. "Let him be unfair in love! Let him be disloyal—I want him— I want —"

The detective interrupted me:

"We'll go up to the company's office, Mrs. Bob. They'll have the latest news there.

But it seemed to me that they had news of everybody in the business except the owner's son.

WIFE TAKES HUSBAND'S ADVICE

And Is Made Well Again by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Springfield, Mass.—"The doctor told my husband that I had to have an operation, otherwise I would be a sickly woman and could not have any more children on account of my weakened condition. I refused to have the operation. My husband asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For the first four months I could do but little work, had to lie down most of the time, and was very nervous, but my husband was always reminding me to take the Vegetable Compound, which I did. Of my eight children this last one was the easiest birth of all and I am thankful for your Vegetable Compound. I recommend it to my friends when I hear them complaining about their ills."—Mrs. M. NATALE, 72 Fremont St., Springfield, Mass.

Sickly, ailing women make unhappy homes, and after reading Mrs. Natale's letter one can imagine how this home was transformed by her restoration to health. Every woman who suffers from such ailments should give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial. It is surely worth while.

BAND WAS POPULAR AT BADGER FAIR

After three successful days of concerts at the state fair, the Artillery band returned on Friday. Upon arrival at Milwaukee, the bandsmen were placed at the secretary's stand for concert, but were put immediately on regular concert schedule. On Wednesday afternoon, the band escorted Gov. Blaine into the grounds and played opposite the grand stand. Audiences were well pleased with the concert work, according to reports.

The organization received many compliments on its marching as well as its musical work, he band made a specialty of marching and counter marching before taking its place for the concerts.

Director Percy Fullinwider said that they played with some very fine bands. He mentioned the Scotch Highlanders as being noteworthy. He discovered that he knew the director and soloist personally and also several men in the band.

KIDNAPERS HOLD GIRL FOR 3 DAYS

Kenosha Child Takes Poison When Flight From Captors Is Halted.

Kenosha. A story involving the kidnaping of a pretty 15 year old Kenosha girl by three strangers and three days of captivity in a deserted shack on the lake shore was laid before the police Friday afternoon by Theresa Rozzi, who was found suffering from iodine poisoning on South Park avenue late Thursday night.

The girl said she was walking near her home on Fremont street shortly after dark Monday night, when three men suddenly seized her and took her to a rendezvous on the lake a few miles from here.

Despite her protestions, she told authorities she was forced to remain in the shack until Thursday afternoon when she made a dash for liberty.

She was followed. Miss Rozzi related to the police, by her former captors and in desperation obtained some iodine and drank it. Miss Rozzi was unable to tell where she procured the poison.

A policeman found her lying unconscious on the street Thursday night. She was rushed to St. Catherine's hospital and revived.

The police when notified, identified the girl immediately as her stepfather had previously reported her disappearance.

Miss Rozzi told detectives investigating the case that although she was imprisoned for three days she was not harmed by her captors.

100 TRYING FOR LEGION ELEVEN

Hard Workouts in Progress to Pick Team for Opening Game, Sept. 25.

Kaukauna—Two hours of relentless hammering, forming in line and passing the ball, signal drilling and plunging is the program of practice for the American legion football team which gets out at 6:30 Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings under the strict guidance of Coach "Cub" Buck and W. F. Ashe. There is no time for a rest. Too much is to be learned and drilled in a short period of time. Practically 100 candidates must be developed into a machine and the best ones picked to grind out a victory in the first game of the season, Sunday, Sept. 25 with the Sheboygan "Chairs."

More pep is evident among the candidates and prospects for an unusual season are brighter this year than in the past. Every one of last year's members of the football team are out in uniform with the horde of recruits who seek a chance to play. In fact, calls have come from men in nearby cities who wished to know whether they would be barred from turning out and giving their best in an effort to make the team. The answer was that anyone who wishes to play the game for sport is welcome, since not one of the players is being paid. The team is purely amateur.

Manager Rennicke's schedule for the season is filling fast but he is holding a few openings with expectations of hearing from teams in this locality. A snappy football game with an eleven from Little Chute, Appleton or Neenah-Menasha would create more interest than a game from some distant city, Mr. Rennicke believes.

LABOR DAY PARADE TO START AT 9:30

T. H. Ryan of Appleton Will Be Speaker—Serve Lunch on Grounds.

Kaukauna.—Organizations which are to take part in the industrial parade Labor day will assemble at the play grounds in time to begin the march at 9:30. Partically every institution and organization in this city is to take part in probably the largest parade ever held in Kaukauna.

Arrangements have been made by the Red Cross whereby people may get their dinner on the grounds instead of going home.

Former judge, T. H. Ryan of Appleton, will be the speaker of the day.

His talk will be only one event of the big program which has been arranged by the trades and labor council and the Red Cross.

Tire Stolen

Lorenz Mayer bought a new tire Friday to adorn the back of his Ford and Friday evening the casing changed ownership when a bold thief drove a car into the Mayer yard, took tire from its place and casually drove away. When Mr. Mayer suspisioned something wrong, the thief was already safely on his way.

Kids Are Gloomy

'Long 'bout this time o' year one sees hosts of youngsers moping along the street with faces looking like nine days of rainy weather while our older citizens remark and wonder what on earth can be the matter. Of course they don't realize that three solid months of paradise for the kids have passed almost away and that most inconvenient and unecessary institution called "school" will begin next Tuesday.

Undoubtedly there are weary parents who breathe a sigh of relief that the end is so near and hopefully look forward to the day when their children will trot reluctantly to that brick prison of higher learning to which they will be securely bound for three fourths of the next year.

But, as has been the case ever since man though of learning through the medium of the school, smiles and laughter will soon return to the world, for in spite of hard studies and frowning teachers there is fun everywhere if you know how to find it. The boys will "oil" up their bean shooters and bring untold quantities of rubbish to school to worry their superiors and the girls will noisily chew gum or munch at an apple under the shelter of their desk covers.

Vocational School Opens

Kaukauna vocational school will open Tuesday, Sept. 6. All children under 16 will be required to conform with the new law and attend school half time. Those over 16 will attend only one day a week and they have to attend till the end of the school period in which they registered, regardless of whether they become of age before the end of the period.

STATE ACTS AGAINST DETECTIVE AGENCY

Madison—Complaint was made in the Circuit court of Dane county on Friday against the Howard W Russell Detective agency at Milwaukee on behalf of the industrial commission by Deputy Attorney General Ralph M. Hoyt

The detective agency is charged with operating an employment agency without a state license as required by law. The specific charge is divided into twenty five counts of advertising and placing strikebreakers.

Under an opinion from the attorney general's department requested by the industrial commission, the placing of strikebreakers is said to be part of an employment agency at work. Violations of the state law may be penalized to the extent of $10 to $100 for each of the twenty-five separate cases charged.

The Russell company is given twenty-five days to answer the complaint.

WAR VETS AGREE TO FIGHT TO GET FOOD

New York.—Jobless, penniless and hungry, hundreds of American veterans of the World War are besieging the Spanish consulate here to sign up with the Foreign Legion which Spain is recruiting for service against the Moors.

In faded and worn uniforms of the A. E. F., the ex-service men, many of whom have been out of work for weeks and months, are quite ready to forswear allegiance to the United States and to serve under a foreign flag on the edge of the Sahara for 90 cents a day.

"We're not doing it for a lark," they declare. "We're doing it to keep life in our bodies. We're hungry."

When a similar recruiting station opened in London last week it was stormed by applicants, most of them former soldiers who were out of work and desperate.

Recruiting began here this week. More than 400 Americans have enrolled thus for. Stations may be opened in other large cities.

"These men are not bloodthirsty adventurers; they are our own soldiers of 1917-1918, reduced almost to starvation because they cannot find work," says Hugh W. Robertson, assistant to the commander of the American Legion department of York.

"These service men were not too proud to fight, but they are too proud to beg. We can't find work for them without the public's cooperation.

There are 200,000 World War veterans out of work in New York state, the Legion department's records show, with 125,000 jobless in this city alone.

PROMINENT GREEN BAY LUMBERMAN IS DEAD

Green Bay—Patrick H. Boland, who came to Green Bay in 1856, and who was the first man to pass through the Sturgeon Bay canal, is dead at his home here. He was a pioneer lumber dealer and later engaged in the steamship business. Born in Ireland he came to this state when the railroad ran only as far as Fond du Lac. He leaves a widow and four sons.

SUFFERED WITH ECZEMA 14 YEARS

All Over Body. Itched and Burned. Cuticura Heals.

"I suffered for fourteen years with a severe case of eczema which was scattered nearly all over my body. At first it seemed like pimples and then turned to blisters and itched and burned so badly that I scratched and irritated the affected parts. I could not sleep at night.

"A friend told me about Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after using four cakes of Cuticura Soap and three boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed, in two weeks." (Signed) Mr. E. W. Robbins, R. 3, Box 72, Westby, Wis., July 12, 1920.

DANGER LURKS IN CLEANING FLUIDS, FIRE CHIEF WARNS

Chief McGillan Urges Extreme Care in Use of Inflammable Materials.

George P. McGillan, chief of the fire department on Saturday issued a warning to Appleton women to exercise care in the use of inflammable cleaning liquids in order to prevent disaster. While there have not been any serious fires here recently resulting from careless use of inflammable compositions, other cities have trouble from that source and the warning was issued to place women on their guard.

According to information received here, a solution of carbon bi-sulphide often used as a cleaning agent, has been responsible for several fires because it was not carefully handled. That liquid is said to be more dangerous than gasoline because of greater volatility and because it ignites at a comparatively low temperature. Heat from a steam pipe or from friction often is sufficient to cause a disastrous explosion.

The chief warned against the use of gasoline for cleaning purposes except under "safe" conditions. Gasoline vaporizes easily and as the vapor is heavier than air it remains close to the floor for hours, awaiting the spark which will cause the explosion. Gasoline should never be used when there is an open flame in the house and care must be taken to prevent heat or sparks from friction. It can be used with a degree of safety out of doors but the best plan is to do away with its use for cleaning purposes entirely.

SIX CAMPERS ARE MADE STAR SCOUTS

Tests Passed at Camp Onaway Average More Than Six to Each Scout.

Appleton Boy Scouts passed a total of 453 tests during their two weeks in camp at Onaway Island, Chain O'Lakes, and 129 merit badges were awarded during that time, according to the camp report of Scout Executive Howard Buck.

The number of merit badges awarded for the various kinds of work are as follows: First aid, 11; athletics, 5; personal health, 13; public health, 9; life saving, 2; pioneering, 8; bird study, 4; camping, 7; cooking, 3; pathfinding, 1; carpentry, 2; craftsmanship, 18; cycling, 1; electricity, 13; first aid to animals, 17; baking, 2; painting, 1; safety first, 2, surveying, 3; swimming, 7.

One hundred seventy second class tests were passed and 154 first class. Second class tests were passed by Burke Engler, Walter Fountain, Frieders, Robert Harbeck, Leonard McCrarie, L. Mereness, Kert Beyer, John Carlin, Howard Cox, Abe Golden, Richard Joyce, Joseph Kerrigan, Rex Radsch, Melvin Tate.

First class tests were completed by Joseph Keller, John Schiebler, Frank Vanderheiden, Melvin Poppe. Six boys passed the tests for Life Scouts: Cyril Agrell, Donald Hyde, Donald McGregor, Douglas Hyde, Burton Manser, Reid Winsey.

Those completing the tests for "star scouts" were Cyril Agrell, Donald McGregor, Burton Manser, Reid Winsey, Donald Hyde, Harry Leith. The high honors attached to passing the tests for Eagle Scouts were won by Leigh Hooley.

During the camp outing, points and ribbons were awarded for the following work: tent and table inspection, animals for zoo, bravery in kitchen, first out at reveille, repairing headquarters, picking up in yards, scrubbing, best campfire stunt, swimming fifty yards, passing certain number of tests each day.

The boys in Tent 8 won 315 points and held the record. Tent 10 was second with 230 points. Ribbons had the following significance: Blue, highest honors, counted for 10 points, red counted for 5 points; yellow signified dishonor and counted 10 points off.

THE STAGE

Theatre

"Irene," musical comedy success, which is coming to the Appleton Theatre for an engagement of one night on Thursday Sept. 8, is described as an entertainment with a human appeal, a charming story and irresistible tunes and lyrics. The adventures of the shopgirl Cinderella are shown in two acts and seven scenes. The book is by James Montgomery and the score by Harry Tierney, with lyrics by Joseph McCarthy. The musical numbers provide a wide variety of solos, duets and concerted numbers by the principals and the beauty chorus. Those that have swept into popularity are "Alice Blue Gown," "Castle of Dreams," "We're Getting Away With It," "Irene," "Sky Rocket" and "The Last Part of Every Party."

The story of "Irene" has to do with the adventures in fashionable Long Island society of a young New York shopgirl, lifted from the drab life of underpaid drudgery in New York's tenement district to supreme social triumphs through the medium of stunning clothes and her own natural charm. This is accomplished through the plot of an unknown New York dressmaker to become famous through the aid of Irene and her shopgirl friends, who suddenly become ladies in high society as if to the manner born. The situations that ensue are of an interesting and diverting nature.

KIMBERLY, WITH NEW PITCHER, IS READY FOR BRANDTS

Stock Is One of Best Semi-Pro Pitchers in State—Had Fans Worried.

Kimberly's determination to throw the hooks into the Brandt team when they meet at Kimberly Sunday afternoon is evidenced by the announcement that Harvey Stock one of the best semi-pro hurlers in the state will work on the hill for the Millmen Stock has just returned from the east where he has been working and playing ball If he is in any kind of shape the Brandts will soon realize they are up against a pretty stiff proposition

Manager Sylvester said Friday that no other changes will be made in the Kimberly lineup Runke will work behind the bat, Sylvester will play the first sack, the two Lamers boys and Thom will fill the rest of the infield and the outfield will be the same as during the season

Appleton fans had a few anxious moments Thurday when it was rumored in the west end that Hank Schultz had broken his arm while cranking a car in Milwaukee This rumor was soon disproved and Hank said he would show the bugs that his arm is as good as ever. Brandt will send his regular lineup into the game both Sunday and Monday

It was reported that Schultz short stop for the Menasha team had quit the club to play with the Milwaukee Red Sox of the Lake shore League Brandt was trying to help the Menasha management to find another player for the games with Oshkosh

Exceptionaly large delegations of Appleton fans will accompany the Brandts to Kimberly Sunday and as a result the Milltown management is making arrangements to take care of a record breaking crowd Almost as much depends on Sunday's game as on the fracas with Oshkosh a week ago and it is as imperative that the Brandts are returned winners if they wish to be in a position to grab the flag if Oshkosh slips.

OSHKOSH AND MENASHA MEET IN TWO GAMES

Baseball officials are uncertain what arrangements will be made to play off the postponed game between Oshkosh and Menasha An effort was made to play one game in Menasha Sunday morning and the other in Oshkosh Sunday afternoon, but the Oshkosh management could not see it that way The Overall team wants to play off the game and it is possible that the battle will be scheduled for Monday morning

Menasha is primed to the gills for the games The team now is stronger than at any time during the season and nothing would please Menasha fans more than to take two games from the league leaders and incidently pull them out of the leadership.

SPORTS COUNCIL TO PLAN CLUB RECREATION EVENTS

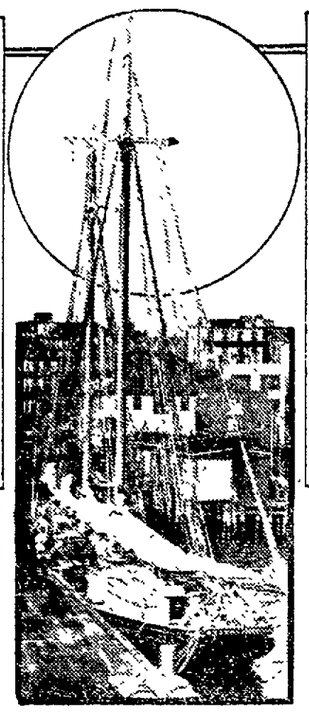

Sports council of the Appleton Womans club will hold its first meeting of the club year on Tuesday, Sept 6. Mrs L. C Sleeper, the new chairman of the recreation department will meet with the girls.

Plans for the entire year will be outlined. A program of community dances, which were successful and popular last year, will be arranged Dates for the first dances will be decided upon All the business which has accumulated for the council during the summer will be disposed of.

Bank On "Bluenose" To Win

WILLIAM H DENNIS DONOR OF THE CUP FOR THE INTERNATIONAL FISHERMEN S RACE

THE "BLUENOSE" ON WHICH NOVA SCOTIANS DEFEND TO WIN BACK CUP FROM AMERICAN DEFENDER

TROPHY CUP WHICH FISHING SCHOONERS RACE FOR IN OCTOBER

Halifax, Nova Scotia.—Nova Scotians have decided that the month of September is too early for their fishermen's races

The fleet will be on the Grand Banks, battling against the autumn gales hauling their catch and working feverishly against time when they will make their run for sport

The middle of October has been finally set for their elimination series, the victor will face the selection of Gloucester fleet

Whether it will be the "Bluenose" against the 'Mayflower" is problematical.

Long Road

The vessels have a long and hard road to travel before they can meet each other off Halifax Harbor

Last year nine schooners contested the series on behalf of the Canadians and the pride of the fleet was the 'Delawanna' of Lunenburg

The Americans snapped up the subsequent challenge so readily that they had no time for an elimination race the 'Esperanto," now a total wreck on the shoals of Sable Island was immediately chosen fixed upsent to Halifax and in two races gathered in the Halifax Herald's trophy and departed for Gloucester

Hopeful

But the Nova Scotians are all out for a win this year The 'Bluenose 's a fisherman from whom much is expected. No doubts are expressed as to her ability to gather in the elimination series—but nothing is more uncertain than ocean racing

Captain Angus Walters skipper of the Bluenose," is confident that his vessel will justify all the hopes entertained for her With character stic Nova Scotia reticence however he merely says that 'he thinks she can race."

The purpose of the fishermen s race 's to get as far away as possible from the idea of yachting, of lounging around in a calm, unruffled sea and scurrying to port at the first puff of wind.

The racers breeze out into the broad Atlantic, pick their way among the ledges of Sambro scene of many a tragic wreck and, round a course of thirty nine and a half miles they plough their way with full sail, spanking along to the music of howling masts and lashing waves.

Real Salts

This is the type of race beloved of fishermen the event that occupies the mind of the salts on the wharves of New England and Nova Scotia from one year's end to the other

There is nothing of the parlor yachtsman variety about it And that is the race that is going to be witnessed this year off Halifax Harbor between representatives of the United States and Canada

The date of the International Series for The Halifax Herald's trophy is October 22nd and those who know the north Atlantic off Halifax in that month know also that it is no place for either freaks or dainty bits of garden pond construction.

SYBIL SCHOMMER WINS TENNIS TITLE

Finals of Womans Club Tournament Are Played Thursday Evening.

Sybil Schommer is Appleton's champion women tennis player having won first place in the first annual tennis tournament put on by Appleton Womans club Final games were played Thursday night on the Y M C A courts at which time Miss Schommer won from Elsie Storm

Four games were played in the finals. Sybil Schommer won from Cecil Mills in the first game Elsie Storm from Josephine Jaeger in the second Miss Johnson now holds third place having won from Miss Mills in the fourth game of the finals

Presentation of the silver spoon trophy will be made to Miss Schommer at a party to be given for the girls who took part in the tennis activities of the summer in the club rooms Thursday night Sept 8 The tournament this year has not been representative of all the women players in the city and many of the girls who play all right through the hot season were competing in new courses

INTERLAKES TO PLAY MERCHANTS ON SUNDAY

Interlakes and West End Merchants will meet on Interlake field Monday afternoon to determine the baseball championship of Appleton Both teams have imposing records

Schabo and Turrow will be the battery for the West End Merchants and Brandenberg Horr and Sternagel or Last will do the heavy work for the pulpit men

The Interlake indoor team will play a squad representing the American legion at Interlake park at 10 o'clock Monday morning

Jenss Arcade team has challenged the winner of the Interlake-Merchants game to a contest which, the Arcades say, will definitely determine the strongest team in the city. The Arcades say their record is worthy of consideration in considering any championship possibilities

FORESTERS AND ARCADES PLAY SUNDAY AFTERNOON

The Catholic Order of Foresters baseball team and the Jenss Arcades will play at Brandt park Sunday afternoon The game which the Arcades had scheduled with Oshkosh was called off.

Niles Kraft and O'Harlon will be the battery for the Foresters while Maloney and Plotter was expected to bear the biggest burden for the Arcades. The winner of that game will challenge the winner of the Interlake West End Merchants game to a series of three games for the championship.

BERNICE WALL IS STATE WOMAN GOLF CHAMPION

Milwaukee.—Miss Bernice Wall of Oshkosh won the Wisconsin state golf championship at the Milwaukee Country club links Friday afternoon when she defeated Mrs K D. Pierson of Milwaukee at the fourteenth hole of what was to have been an 18 hole match, 5 up 4.

Sport Views And News

If prospects mean anything Lawrence will be represented by some football team this year Reports from Coach H D McChesney say that at least 100 men will report for practice That is mighty fine Appleton people want to see good football and they are willing to support the Lawrence team In addition to giving the fans a regular team the college authorities should make some effort to provide a little comfort for the spectators A row of bleacher seats along the south side of the field raised above the ground about five feet, would result in larger attendance because the fans would not be obliged to stand in dense crowds for more than an hour while the game is in progress.

Wilbur Glenn Volkn, overseer of Zion City has put the ban on baseball He said he terms the national game a wrecked sport and of no benefit to the community. Even playing of catch is barred in the town and the new manager will be recently put into effect carries a heavy fine for those who fail to live up to the law Well, we should worry, that's Zion City.

Horseshoe pitching is rapidly gaining favor It promises to be a most popular sport and the enthusiasts are springing up in many cities and towns scattered through the U S A The national tournament in Minneapolis is attracting a good deal of attention and the event is being played up considerable by sport writers The horseshoe throwing epidemic has invaded collegiate ranks and Drake and Iowa plan to meet in varsity competition this fall

* * *

The women's state championship golf honors will rest in Oshkosh until next year and then perhaps longer Bernice Wall, who gained considerable fame during the last few years as a golf star, carried off the title in the Wisconsin tournament at Milwaukee. In the deciding match she had little trouble defeating Mrs K D Pierson, one of the best players in the Cream City, 5 and 4.

The American Bar association has taken a crack at Judge Landis for mixing up in baseball while serving in a judicial capacity However, this probably won't cover the Chicago purple gray haired The critics have been on his trail ever since he took charge of organized baseball but as yet a movie to oust him off the bench has fallen flat The attacks of the anti gang so far have been unable to make even a dent in his popularity.

HOCKLEY TAKES THIRD FLIGHT IN TITLE RACE

C C Hockley won the third flight in the annual club championship tournament which is being held this week at the Riverview golf links. Mr Hockley defeated Harry Price 1 up in the final match of the flight Friday afternoon He defeated William McGinnis in the second round and E L Marston in the first round

Several matches remain to be played in the second flight.

A team of about 20 golf players from the club are to meet a team from Green Bay Saturday afternoon in that city The players are to be guests at a 12:30 luncheon at the Green Bay club house.

JAPS SKIDDING IN TENNIS TITLE RACE

American Players Still in Lead for Davis Cup—Play Doubles Today.

By Henry L. Farrell

Forest Hills, N. Y.—Japan's tennis army will make its last stand this afternoon on the court battle grounds of the West Side Tennis club.

Defeated in the first two battles of the Davis cup challenge round by America, the Japanese must win the doubles today or lose the chance to engrave their names on the historic trophy

Kumagae and Shimadzu the diminutive challengers will meet the American pair "Dick" Williams and Wally" Washburn, in what may be the deciding match of the round

Victory by the American pair will keep the cup won from Australia last winter at home for at least another year

Mlle Suzanne Lenglen, European tennis champion, will appear this afternoon in an exhibition match arranged as a feature of the program Paired with Vincent Richards, "the French girl will play against the California team, Mrs May Sutton Bundy and Willis Davis

RUTH GETS ANOTHER HOME RUN AS YANKEES WIN

New York — Splendid pitching by Hoyt enabled New York to defeat Washington on Friday by 9 to 3 It was the fifth successive victory over the Senators. Two of Washington's four hits came in the first inning, when errors were responsible for two of the three runs scored Ruth Meusel and Peckinpaugh hit home runs Ruth's forty ninth homer, which scored Peckinpaugh, cleared the right field roof. Meusel the next batter, hit his eighteenth of the season.

DEMPSEY READY FOR BATTLE, KEARNS SAYS

New York—"We don't care with whom we fight, or where we fight, providing they can show us some reason for it all," said Jack Kearns, manager of Champion Jack Dempsey, on Friday in response to a query as to when Dempsey would draw on the old mittens. Kearns denied he had accepted terms for Dempsey to meet Bill Brennan at Buffalo

"We would like to get Willard before anybody else," said Kearns. "I really believe the big Kansas farmer is a three to one better attraction than anything else in prospect Also I believe New York is the place to stage the battle, and that Tex Rickard is the man to handle the affair."

GIANTS RIGHT ON HEELS OF PIRATES

Win by St. Louis Cardinals Brings New York Within Half a Game of Lead.

By United Press Leased Wire

New York.—Helped by the fast moving St. Louis Cardinals, the New York Giants were within a half game of the National league lead Saturday. Both Pittsburg and the New Yorkers have won seventy-eight games but the Pirates have lost one game less than the Giants.

The Giants move again today on Brooklyn, a club which has been giving them more trouble this season than any team on the circuit. Pittsburgh has another tilt with the Cards.

The Yanks are still out in front in the American league and are moving in high gear. Huggins has another game with the Washington Senators while the Indians are booked with the Detroit Tigers

Brooks, still going against the champions, now have taken Coveleskie off the list He is suffering from a strained back and may be out of the game for some time.

Watching The Scoreboard

Yesterday's hero: Everett Scott, Red Sox shortstop played in his 800th consecutive game having been in every contest since June 20, 1916. The Sox beat the Athletics, 4 to 3.

The Cubs knocked Rixey out of the box and beat the Reds 7 to 0

Babe Ruth hit his 49th homer and put himself eleven days ahead of his 1920 record, the Yankees beating Washington, 9 to 3

Cleveland, helped by errors, walloped the Tigers, 12 to 1 Coveleskie had to go home with a strained side

Fournier's double and Stock's single gave the Cards their third straight victory over the Pirates, 1 to 0

Sisler got four hits out of five times up and helped the Browns trim the White Sox, 3 to 0

Swimming Pool Closed

The municipal swimming pool will be closed Monday afternoon and evening but will be open in the morning This is done because of the observance of Labor day

Carelessness Caused 547,500 Fires Last Year

Every time the minute hand passes a mark on the clock face, at least one more fire has broken out somewhere in the United States

There are 1440 minutes in each day, and an average of 1500 fires occur in that time — a little more than one every minute.

The loss from these fires averages $2 10 for every American man, woman and child There is an enormous indirect loss impossible to estimate accurately These fires, nearly all caused by carelessness, burn up wealth amounting to more than the combined value of all the gold silver and copper mines and oil wells in the country

Truly useful patriotism lies in saving this money for your country and yourself The National Board of Fire Underwriters has prepared an illustrated booklet, "Safeguarding the Home Against Fire," telling in detail the causes of fires and how they may be prevented and fought.

Our Washington Information Bureau will secure a free copy of this booklet for any one who fills out and mails the coupon below. Be sure to write your name and address clearly, and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage.

Frederic J. Haskin, Director, The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Washington, D. C.

I enclose herewith two cents in stamps for return postage on a free copy of the Fire Booklet.

PAIGE
The Most Beautiful Car in America

All That Money Can Buy

To be Master of the Highway is glory indeed, but this well-earned distinction does not alone explain the country-wide preference shown for Paige 6-66 models.

To start with, there is large economy in the initial price. Furthermore, many attested performances on track and hill have revealed a stamina that is a guarantee of long life and freedom from repair bills.

All that a truly fine car should be, it is easily apparent that the Paige 6-66 is by far the greatest dollar-for-dollar value on the market today. Is it any wonder, then, that discriminating buyers who could well afford to pay $5,000 to $6,000, if they were convinced that supreme quality compelled it, choose the Paige?

Shore Acres

WITH its commanding view, wonderful bathing beach, splendid elevation, good boating, good fishing, fine building sites, etc., is located 3 miles east of Waverly Beach on highway No. 114, known as the Sherwood Road—¾ mile east of Lake Park corners, ½ mile south, within 20 minutes of Neenah, Menasha, Appleton, or Kaukauna, being ideally situated for summer homes.

Over half of the building sites alloted for sale this year have been disposed of. The prices at which these fine restricted home sites are offered are lower than other less desirable property.

The purchase of a homesite in SHORE ACRES, at an average price of $10.00 per front foot (with a lot depth of 300 feet) includes the free and uninterrupted use of a 12 acre park, a 1½ acre park, tennis court, baseball diamond, children's playground, community well, community water pressure tank, community ice house, and property for the caretaker's buildings.

The purchase of property at this time, in SHORE ACRES, presents an appealing opportunity to acquire RESTRICTED SUMMER HOME SITES at FIRST COST. This, then, is the time to make your selection. The prices positively will advance with the close of this sale.

You owe a summer outing or change, in fact, to your family. This summer home district affords you an opportunity to spend the evening with your family, and take care of your business during the day. Yet, it can be made a place of seclusion for weeks.

May I ask that you call at my office for plat and plans of SHORE ACRES to take with you when looking over this project?

COME OUT TOMORROW OR MONDAY AND INSPECT THIS PROPERTY. NEXT YEAR MAY BE TOO LATE.

PREDICTS VETS SOON WILL DEMAND BIG PENSION BILL

Senate Finance Committee Is Not Looking for Reduction in Taxes.

By L. C. Martin
By United Press Leased Wire

Washington, D. C.—A $2,000,000,000 pension bill for veterans of the world war in addition to the soldier bonus measure now pending, will be demanded within the next few years by one or both of the great political parties, Senator Smoot, Utah, predicted Saturday.

"By the time the national convention of seven years from now, I expect to see both parties supporting such a measure" said Smoot Saturday.

"That's one reason we will be called to raise $5,000,000,000 a year in taxes in this country within a few years."

The so-called soldier bonus bill delayed by President Harding during the present session of congress will be passed, according to congressional leaders. Smoot declared the pension will be sought over and above the "adjusted compensation" provided for in the bonus bill.

While other members of the finance committee, in considering the tax problem, said they believed Smoot's $5,000,000,000 a year estimate too high, they admitted the outlook for lower taxes for some years to come is poor. It would be unsafe, senators said to impose $5,000,000,000 taxes in peace times. The business structure would not stand the strain, they assert. No political party dare face the public wrath which would follow.

Whether the taxes go that high or not, Smoot said, the need right now is for a tax bill that can be expanded or contracted very simply and easily to meet the revenue needs. He claimed he has such a plan in his bill to get all the revenue from six sources instead of 35 as under present laws.

RETAIL PRICES OF FOOD STARTS CLIMB IN LARGER CITIES

By United Press Leased Wire

Washington, D. C.—Retail food prices are beginning to soar again.

Prices of food advanced in fourteen big cities during August, according to an announcement of the labor department Saturday. This may represent the beginning of a new advance of the price level for all commodities, officials said.

Retail prices of food until July dropped steadily month by month.

DEATHS

FRED BEYER

Fred Beyer, sr. died Friday of stomach trouble at the home of his son, Ernest Beyer Black Creek. He was born in Germany and came to this country 50 years ago, locating in Milwaukee where he made his home for 5 years. In 1855 he moved to the town of Center, Outagamie co., where he engaged in farming and he resided until 13 years ago, when he moved to Black Creek. He is survived by his widow, six sons, August, Albert and Fred, Center; Gustav, Cicero; William and Ernest, Black Creek; and by 24 grandchildren. The funeral will be held at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon from his late home and at 1.30 from St. John church, Center. Services will be conducted by the Rev. A. H. Werner. The interment will be at St. John cemetery.

MRS. MARGARET YOUNG

Mrs. Margaret Richard Young of Oshkosh, died Saturday morning in Oshkosh, according to word received here by relatives and friends. Mrs. Young was a sister of Mrs. Agnes Arnold and of Mrs. A. S. Galpin of this city. Other survivors are two daughters, Mrs. Raymond Carter, Wausau; Mrs. Robert Morgan, Palm Beach, Fla. and one son George Young, of Milwaukee.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon from the home.

ATTEND FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs William Maesch, Jr., will attend the funeral of Mrs. Maesch's brother, Private John Timm, which will take place at Neenah Sunday afternoon. Private Timm, who enlisted at Neenah, died from wounds received in action July 20, 1918. The body arrived in Neenah Thursday and will be buried in Oak Hill cemetery.

MRS. OWEN FAILEY

Mrs. Owen Failey, 66, died Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs Walter Fisher, Osborn. She is survived by her daughter and a son, Frank of Stockton, Ill. Burial was made in the town of Mitchell, Fond du Lac co.

MRS. J. W. OLMSTEAD

Mrs J. W. Olmstead, Dayton, Ohio, a former Appleton resident died the first of the week according to word received here by friends. Interment occured Thursday at Dayton. Mrs. Olmstead is survived by one son John.

CHILD DIES

The 10 month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs Henry Foelzer, Summer st. died Saturday morning. Funeral services will be held at 9 o'clock Monday morning from St. Joseph church. Burial will be in the parish cemetery.

BIRTHS

A son was born Friday to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Grassl, Foster-st.

SEATTLE TO OPEN PORTAL OF PEACE

President Harding Sends Message Commending Highway Project.

By United Press Leased Wire

Washington, D. C.—Hope that the hundred years of peace between Canada and the United States will be an example for the whole world was expressed by President Harding in a message sent to Samuel Hill of Seattle to be read at the dedication of a peace portal erected on the Pacific highway at the international line.

The president's message in part follows:

"You have erected a temple of peace, whose gates are never to be closed save in war. Already it stands for more than a century of unbroken peace between Britain and America, and we all join in the hope that in coming time it may commemorate an era of peace much longer than the period of wars for which the temple of Janus stood. Our century and more of peace with the British empire, our relations of unbroken amity with Canada, the fact that a boundary line over 3,000 miles long remains unfortified—these are the testimonies that the world grows wiser and better. All mankind looks to this example and yearns to be able to follow it, and we are justified to believe that a time is at hand when it may take a long step in that direction. On the Pacific peace portal, I wish to convey to you personally my high appreciation of your patriotic service in providing this symbolic sign to international peace, and in doing so, I would also thank the Pacific Highway association for the fine cooperation it has rendered."

RAIL MEN TO STRIKE IF BALLOT SAYS SO

Vote on Acceptance of Wage Cut Will Be Polled October 5 to 10.

By Joseph Wasney
United Press Staff Correspondent

Buffalo, N. Y.—The railroad situation in the United States is now in the hands of the workers. Four hundred thousand men are being polled and if they vote for a strike—it means a strike, T. C. Cashen, president of the switchmen's union, told the United Press Saturday.

Between October 5 and 10 the die will have been cast. Nonunion as well as union men will cast ballots.

"The five big transportation organizations have reached a point where they will be guided by the wish of the men as expressed in the ballots," Cashen said.

The taking of a strike vote by the switchmen indicates the gravity of the railroad situation, as it is the first general strike vote the switchmen's union has ever taken.

"All railroad organizations are affected alike on wage decreases, and in a majority of the cases officials of railroads throughout the United States have demanded a revision of working schedules."

DRY OFFICIAL IS HELD FOR ALLEGED ASSAULT

Milwaukee—Carl Henning, deputy state prohibition commissioner, Saturday was charged with assault and battery by Mrs. Apolonia Jagowski, 26, during a raid on her husband's saloon.

A warrant has been issued for Henning's arrest.

According to the complaint, Henning and two other state dry officers searched the Jagowski saloon for booze and not finding any, attempted to enter the kitchen in the rear of the saloon. Mrs Jagowski held the door asking the officers to wait until she dressed. Henning she charged pushed the door and knocked her down. She is now under a physician's care, having recently undergone a major operation, it is claimed.
